Genstar presents case to council

"St. Albert people benefit" -Ayotte

Mike Rogers of Genstar Ltd. appeared before council Monday at his request to "address himself to some questions raised by council recently while discussing a westerly bypass" adding "I also see four new faces since the last time I was here."

Several points were cleared up in the discussion. The MLA originated the west bypass plan, Mr. Rogers told council, and then he brought it to us to see if we would assist. But Genstar initiated the condition that if we gave land for right-of-way and roadway, we would do so only if our northwest annexation goes through. After seeing the Edmonton Journal Tuesday, Mr. Rogers telephoned the Gazette. He confirmed that the statement quoted in this paragraph was "exactly what I said at council meeting Monday."

Mr. Rogers told council that prior to getting into the development field he had worked as a municipal planner and as an administrator for municipalities such as Red Deer, Edmonton and Calgary.

Mr. Rogers passed to council members some pieces of information showing that "we are a Canadian Company with 43 percent Canadian-owned stock, a head office in this country, we do 85 percent of our work in this country, and in Alberta alone we employ three and one-half thousand people." The annual statement given to council was commented on by Mr. Rogers. Based on 1977 assets their return on net assets was 8.3 percent and return on sales was 6.9 percent.

Lot prices charged by Genstar were also mentioned, which Mr. Rogers compared with those charged by Edmonton. In Castle Downs Genstar shares $23,000 per lot as of January, 1978, in their Clairview development the cost is $20,500, and in Fort Saskatchewan, $18,000. This compares with $29,750 that Edmonton is charging in Mill Woods, said Mr. Rogers, adding that his firm has not serviced lots in St. Albert since 1976, so he could not provide average cost figures for St. Albert. He noted that Genstar serves 25 independent builders with lots, in addition to Engineered Homes, their own builder. Alderman Smith wondered what he was "Getting into" and Mr. Rogers replied that there was some confusion over the name change from B.A.C.M. to Genstar, and "while I covered some of these topics for former members, some new members might not be aware of this information provided.

[Genstar are applying to annex 1900 acres to the northwest of St. Albert which would eventually add a further 24,000 population in the area bounded by Highway 2 on the east, Villeneuve Road on the north, the west by-pass if built, on the

Council OK's relaxation of Woodlands lot widths

The relaxation of lot widths to a standard below the city minimum in the proposed Woodlands Carma development was a point of some debate at Monday night's regular meeting of council. Indeed, the debate on the matter was in itself the subject of debate, as Ald. Bill Shields felt the discussion was improperly timed. Ald. Shields expressed concern that any motion that council made on the matter could be open to challenge. Mr. Shields said that since the Municipal Planning Commission had voted on the matter more information had come to light, including significant changes in the lot sizes. He expressed concern that Carm would not "live" with a protective clause that was recommended for inclusion in the development agreement by the administration committee. The clause referred to would ask Carma to forgoe constructing any residential buildings until the 149th Street and 156th Street roadways have been constructed or upgraded. This clause was recommended on the advice of the Grimble Transportation Group, a transportation consulting firm which feels that the construction of further residential areas will overly burden roads leading to Edmonton.

Another concern relating to the propriety of debate was expressed by Ald. Liesbeth Bakker. Mrs. Bakker felt misgivings as the bylaw relating to the rezoning of Woodlands had been held up due to a question of procedural illegality. (See story "Legal Problems Delay Bylaw".) Mrs. Bakker moved to table the motion regarding lot widths until after the bylaw was given third reading. The motion failed to

Al Alain resigns from Catholic Board

Fellow trustees of St. Albert Public School District 3 regretfully accepted the resignation of Board member Al Alain, at the Board meeting Monday night.

Al Alain

The resignation, effective May 1, was made necessary when the company Mr. Alain works for, Alberta Government Telephones, transferred him to Ottawa where he will be 'on loan' to Trans Canada Telephone Systems.

Mr. Alain and his wife Helen have lived in St. Albert for 11 years. They have three children - Corinne, Philip and David.

The St. Albert Knights of Columbus will be losing a hard working member who was largely responsible for the extremely successful Mini-Basketball program.

Mr. Alain leaves for Ottawa May 14 and his family will follow on the 28th. The loan to Trans-Canada Telephone will be for approximately two years after which the Alains hope to return to St. Albert, a community they have come to love.

A by-election will be called to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Alain's leaving in late summer or early fall.

Council douses fire agreement

City council Monday night threw cold water on the agreement by which St. Albert provides fire protection to the Municipal District of Sturgeon. The difficulties arose when aldermen found deficiencies in the pricing formula set out in the agreement.

Under the formula, the MD this year would pay St. Albert approximately $59,000 for fire protection. This figure is derived from averaging the cost of fire protection in the MD for the past three years.

However, Ald. Margaret Smith pointed out that the figures for 1977 would be an inaccurate reflection of costs to St. Albert, as the city provided no fire protection for half the year. This situation resulted when the old fire agreement expired. At that time the city of St. Albert wished to change the agreement in a manner which would split the fire protection costs 50-50 with the MD. The ensuing debate and negotiations resulted in a six-month lapse in service to the MD. Ald. Breadner agreed with Ald. Smith's contention that the money involved in the discrepancy was of sufficient importance to justify a delay in signing the agreement.

Mayor Ronald Harvey disagreed, saying that it was important the agreement be signed as soon as possible.

Ald. Rod Throndson moved that the agreement be referred to staff for a report on the financial implications. The motion carried.

March pleased with '79 Summer Games plan

St. Albert's Superintendent of Recreation and Culture Bernie March says he thinks the announcement that St. Albert has been given the 1979 Alberta Summer Games is "pretty exciting."

He adds that the Games should be an asset to the community and should help to draw out the community spirit for which St. Albert is well known.

But he expressed a doubt about the financing of the Games which have been earmarked for about $200,000 by the provincial government. $50,000 of this is in the form of a legacy which could be used by St. Albert to foot the bill for games facilities.

Journal story not true

The Journal May 2nd story headed "New Bypass Seed Sown by Genstar" is not only false, but misleading. Mr. Rogers at the council meeting Monday evening did not say that Genstar initiated the west bypass. He said the M.L.A. did. It is incredible that the Journal reporter could twist a quotation by Mr. Rogers so completely around, unless it was done deliberately for some reason - political or otherwise. A correction should be forthcoming from the Journal as a responsible newspaper.

Council then resumed dis-ussion of the motion re-arding the lot width relaxa-ion. The first relaxation ould allow certain simple amily lots in the first phase f Woodlands Carma to have minimum width of 50-55 eet inclusive, providing the epth is increased by about ve feet. This would apply to maximum of 49 lots. The econd relaxation provides that certain lots in the same development with a width of 56-58 feet be allowed. This would also apply to a maximum of 49 lots. Both lot categories, although having reduced width, must comply with minimum standards for site area.

SET PRECEDENT?

The whole question of lot width relaxation. The first relaxation would allow certain single family lots in the first phase of Woodlands Carma to have a minimum width of 50-55 feet inclusive, providing the depth is increased by about five feet. This would apply to a maximum of 49 lots. The second relaxation provides that certain lots in the same development with a width of 56-58 feet be allowed. This would also apply to a maximum of 49 lots. Both lot categories, although having reduced width, must comply with minimum standards for site area.

SET PRECEDENT?

The whole question of lot width relaxation disturbed Ald. Margaret Smith. Mrs. Smith expressed misgivings as to the precedent the relaxation would set for other developers. She pointed out that this relaxation did not apply to just one instance, but to a portion of a multiple density area. She said the reduction of lot widths would not make any difference in the cost of housing.

Ald. Breadner expressed some reservations about the housing mix planned for the development, comparing the percentage of multiple family, single family semi-detached and single family detached to the standards set out in the General Plan.

"It seems to me we're leaning on the more dense side," said Mr. Breadner.

Ald. Bakker pointed out that a change in the lot sizes would only result in 19 more lots, and didn't mean that the city had suddenly opted for high density.

The motion to approve the relaxations carried narrowly, with Ald. Smith, Shields and Breadner opposing.

'79 Games

Red Deer used its money for an all weather track when it hosted the Games.

Mr. March said: "Our research has indicated that the "legacy" has generally looked after the administrative cost of the games and has not provided the funds for additional facilities."

He estimated that about 1300 athletes had taken part in the Red Deer Games over a three day period.

St. Albert will be hosting the games August 3, 4 and 5 next year.

Mr. March said the St. Albert Games Society will be sitting down with the Alberta Games Council to see what specific sports will be held in St. Albert. It is expected that 18 or 20 different sports will be represented in the Games.

On the question of accommodation, Mr. March said: "We feel we could put together an athlete's village using our schools. Adults and officials will stay at the St. Albert Inn, the retreat house and Griesbach Barracks."

Mr. March also told the Gazette that the city was looking into the possibility of developing a camper's village behind St. Albert High.

Games events will be held on a number of sites in St. Albert which lend themselves to that kind of activity.

Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Minister Al "Boomer" Adair says that if there is a deficit of, for example, $8-$10,000 for the summer games, St. Albert would receive first call on the $50,000, with the balance going to the city for facility use.

RODEO TIME DRAWING NEAR

With the St. Albert Kinsmen Rodeo just around the corner members of the Kinsmen Club and Kinette Club are 'up to their ears' in organizing and fund raising activities. The Kinettes helped kick off the campaign, by throwing in the first $5,500 towards a target of $25,000 the Kinsmen hope to raise through donations by businesses and private citizens. The Kinsmen Club is contributing an additional $25,000 which has been matched by the City of St. Albert. The Rodeo will be at its new permanent location on Riel Drive this year and will feature for the first time full sized chuckwagon races. The Kinsmen are presently one month behind out at the grounds and could really use some help setting up stands for 4,500 spectators. Welders in particular would be most welcome and are asked to call 458-1549 if they could lend a hand in their spare time. Parade entrants should phone the same number for further information. Parade day is June 17. A gymkhana will precede the Rodeo this year and will be staged June 14, 15 and 16 at the Perron Street Arena. About 100 entries have already been accepted and others interested in taking part should phone Bob Kirk at 458-1643.

Gas policy pains council

A change in the rates charged for natural gas was responsible for some pained expressions on the faces of council members at Monday night's meeting. The information that put the damper on council's spirits was contained in a letter from Northwestern Utilities, announcing they were considering a proposal which would make rates for natural gas uniform across the province.

Ald. Margaret Smith moved receipt of the letter, but said she made the motion to receive "not with any enthusiasm." Mrs. Smith pointed out that the bulk of the population lies in the areas which would suffer a rate hike as a result of the policy.

St. Albert has the opportunity to oppose the rate hike, but City Manager Bob Byron pointed out that if larger centres do not oppose the proposal, then it would be difficult for St. Albert to do. So far, 28 municipalities have supported the new policy, while only six have opposed it. Mrs. Smith commented that such a policy would mean that residents of St. Albert could "end up subsidizing centres with a larger tax base."

Ald. Barry Breadner suggested the city "could spend a few hundred dollars" to study the matter and moved that staff ask consultants to look at the gas company's proposal. St. Albert will have to move quickly, however, as the hearing on the matter reconvened Monday.

Around Town

Rick Lelacheur of Lodgepole Crescent, St. Albert, and a member of the Commonwealth Games Foundation, did a tremendous job Tuesday evening during second period intermission of the Toronto-Montreal hockey game, on promoting the Games. He is to be commended for the excellent work he is doing for the Games to be held in Edmonton in August.

District 6 teachers upset over proposed school year

About 70 school teachers from the Protestant Separate School District turned out at last Wednesday's regular board meeting to voice their displeasure with a proposed school year which would have them begin work August 28, 1978.

The teachers were almost unanimous in feeling the school year should begin following the Labour Day weekend. They liked the administration's proposed two week vacation at Christmas but not if it meant starting August 28.

Elmer Gish, District 6 superintendent, had brought before the Board three proposals for the 1978-79 school year. The one he recommended based the school year on 200 days - 190 instructional and 10 non-instructional (i.e. Teachers' Convention, registration, Professional Development, organizational, etc,). As teacher salaries are based on 200 days, Mr. Gish felt the year should also be based on 200 days.

Teachers supported the position taken by John Osgood on behalf of the Economic Policy Committee which speaks for the teachers and which submitted its own proposal for the coming school year. The EPC suggested a total of 194 operational days including 187 instructional.

The EPC and the Professional Development Committee urged that the superintendent reconsider eliminating one of the Professional Development days. PD Chairman Malcolm McPhee said he was 'crestfallen' over the fact no notice was given the committee over the dropping of the day. He told the Board that teachers do not receive too many days to be true professionals and that moving the PD day to the beginning of the school year much of its benefit would be lost.

Throndson urges hospital board to fight government

The Sturgeon General Hospital Board threw down the gauntlet at the provincial government this week when it expressed dissatisfaction at government 6.5 percent budget guidelines and decided not to close a floor at the hospital this summer.

"All we are doing is falling into the hands of the provincial government ... I say to hell with them, fight them and prove we've got the growth factor," said trustee member Rod Throndson at the board meeting April 26.

ROD THRONDSON

The board spent alot of time checking graphs showing slack and busy times on the Sturgeon General's fourth floor and it was strange how the board finally decided that the floor should remain open this summer. That will be from May to September.

Hospital Trustee Liesbeth Bakker made a motion to close the fourth floor, thus countering the drift of the discussion towards leaving the floor open and with the odd proviso, "under the provision that I may vote against my own motion."

Before that motion was defeated, trustee Clay Crozier said he could support closure for this year because of government restraints, "but impress on the government we are in a fast growing area."

Mr. Throndson said: "Till we have instructions from the provincial government, I do not think we should close it."

After the motion was carried to the effect the fourth floor remain open, Chairman of the Board Bill Flynn said the hospital "will stay open."

However Mr. Crozier next put forward a motion that the board follow provincial guidelines "and not create a deficit for this year."

"I do not want to sit on a board that deliberately runs up a deficit," said Mr. Crozier. Mr. Crozier's motion was carried.

Another motion from the board that the administration prepare an appeal to the provincial government for an increased budget was also carried.

Other points in the discussion on budgetary matters, growth and fourth floor closure came from trustee member Roger Blackburn. He pointed out that 400 lots are being opened up in Morinville this year. He also said earlier, "This looks like a quick easy way of saving $50,000 (closing the fourth floor) ... I am basically opposed to closing the floor."

Chairman Flynn took a more lighthearted view at one point and said, "if we run a deficit we'll have to close for six months or longer."

He also said in the discussion, "The area we serve is on the increase and it will come to a time when the hospital will not hold it ..."

Trustee Sheila Cooper expressed concern that the closure of the fourth floor might affect the hospital's bid for expansion.

Chief of Staff Dr. Ed Tworek said closure of the floor would mean an increase in the danger of cross-infection and adult patients being placed with children. He pointed out that St. Albert patients deserved a better standard of health care than that.

Twenty-four surgical and 16 pediatric beds would have been affected if the fourth floor had been closed this summer.

It had been a regular thing to close the floor since 1975.

OUR MISTAKE!

In the APRIL 26 edition of the Gazette, a slip of the typewriter resulted in a regrettable error. The gaffe occurred in the lines underneath a page five picture of Weber Bros. Realty office, taken after a car had gone out of control and smashed into the building. The descriptive copy should have read "The male who drove into the Weber office last Wednesday morning really was NOT dissatisfied with a house deal." No slur on the estimable business reputation of Weber Bros. Realty was intended.

PITCH-IN '78 AT V.G.

Students at Vital Grandin school were busy cleaning up their school grounds today in the spirit of 'Pitch-In '78.' Shell Oil of Canada supplied several schools and organizations in St. Albert with large plastic garbage bags for the chore.

Next week is 'Pitch-In' week

May 8 - 14 has been designated as the start of 'Pitch-In '78.'

Shell Oil of Canada has donated large plastic garbage bags to be used by community groups and organizations who will be cleaning up public areas.

There are 500 bags waiting to be picked up at City Hall for this purpose and any organization wanting to get involved is welcome to come by for them.

Ravines and shopping malls are locations which seem to attract all kinds of garbage and the clean-up of one of them could be a worthy cause for an organization.

Several schools including Bertha Kennedy, Leo Nickerson, Ronald Harvey, Robert Rundle, Paul Kane, St. Albert High, Sir George Simpson, Vital Grandin and V.J. Maloney as well as the Grandin District Guides and Brownies are already committed to helping in the campaign.

City RCMP investigate two break-ins

St. Albert RCMP are investigating two break-ins which took place over the weekend and Monday.

Investigations continue into a break-in at the Sturgeon Valley Golf Course club facilities and RCMP said "an undetermined amount of property was stolen."

TRAFFIC BRANCH

The St. Albert RCMP Detachment now has a traffic branch and they have noticed that traffic offenders are coasting through stop signs, speeding and speeding through school zones.

For the benefit of those who want to clean up their act school zone times are 8 a.m. - 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.

RCMP emphasize that these traffic offenses must stop or else enforcement will be stepped up and violators prosecuted.

The St. Albert Detachment also advises there are an increasing number of drivers stunting, that is, squealing tires, revving engines and so on.

They point out that this is dangerous because it increases the chance of losing control of the car and injuring someone else.

Two other points from the RCMP news release this week are that more Block Parents are needed in St. Albert. Applications can be picked up at the RCMP detachment at 25 Sir Winston Churchill Avenue. RCMP say that members of the public who were contacted last year regarding Block leaders for the Neighbourhood Watch program have not been forgotten. They will be contacted again as soon as the RCMP come into the neighbourhood.

City to lease downtown properties

Land owned by the City of St. Albert in the downtown core will be available for lease in future following action taken by city council at its regular meeting on Monday nights. Acting on recommendations from the Administration Committee, council moved that the land be leased and that the term of the lease initially provide for a two-year period to cover start up and construction costs. After this period there will be a 30 clear years with the right to option a further 30 years.

Ald. Roger Ayotte questioned the interpretation of the Administration Committee's recommendations, suggesting that the committee had agreed to look at offers to purchase. Ald. Liesbeth Bakker, however, was adamant in her reply that no such agreement had been arrived at, and that the recommendations had concerned themselves strictly with leasing. Aldermen Breadner and Throndson suggested however, that the move to lease the properties did not preclude discussions of offers to purchase.

The five motions passed established a rental rate at one percentage point above the prime bank rate. That rate would be periodically adjusted according to changes in current market value of the land. The annual rental rate for the initial two-year period will be the same as the prime bank rate at the time the lease is signed, multiplied by the adjusted market value of the land.

Kinsmen honour Pollon and Stewart

The St. Albert Kinsmen honoured two of their own with the prestigious Life Membership Award, highest honour in Kin, at the special anniversary banquet which combined the 14th anniversary of St. Albert Kinsmen Club, and the first anniversary of the Morinville Kinsmen Club. The banquet program and dance was held at the St. Albert Inn Saturday evening, for about 140 people.

A lot of little-known information came out about the two new Life Members, Ken Pollon and Dave Stewart during an hilarious "MINI ROAST" of the two men.

There was the time Ken woke up the morning after returning from a Dawson Creek convention to discover he had the measles! Actually some of his "friends" had painted on some spots. It appears that Ken never gets up in time to open his store on Tuesday mornings either. Larry Mitchell, Bob Shoults, Bruce Daley and Don Hurl took part in roasting Ken.

When Dave's turn came it turned out that as a young fellow living in Jasper Place, Dave had run over an outhouse - while teaching his sister how to drive! Somewhat later Dave learned that the Debit column was the one next to the window. Finding that to be true he went on to make money as an accountant. Dave is also a Novelty worker - it's a novelty when he works. Gerry Rayburn, Bill Hite and Terry Moore gave Dave the going over.

Between the six roasters, all of whom knew their subjects so well, the crowd was literally falling off their chairs laughing, making for a highly successful evening.

Mr. Stewart and Mr. Pollon join Bill Hite, making three life members in the St. Albert club after 14 years. The award is not given lightly and consists of a handsome plaque suitably engraved. Don Bossert, chairman of the Life Membership Committee presented the memberships.

Ken is a charter member of the club and a past president, with a record of hard work in many areas of Kin activity. Dave is a past district governor, past president and winner of the St. Albert Kin of the Year Award in 1975.

Guests at the banquet included Peter Elzinga, MP for Pembina riding, Alderman Barry Breadner, representing the city, and a number of visitors from other Kinsmen clubs.

STEWART JOINS LIFERS

Kin President Gerry Rayburn (centre) and Don Bossert were all grins Saturday night when they presented fellow kin Dave Stewart with a Life Membership. Dave and Ken Pollon join Bill Hite, the only other St. Albert Kinsman granted this highest of honours.

Good news for commuters!

According to Transportation consultant Ken Foster, work on both 149 and 156 Streets should be underway by 1979 or 1980. Mr. Foster is a consultant with the Grimble Consulting Group. He had been invited to Monday's meeting to advise council on transportation developments and their effect on the proposed development of Woodlands by Qualico Developers.

Mr. Foster said he had met with the Alberta Transportation Task Force and that "it is not unreasonable to anticipate that 149 Street and 156 Street might be built by 1979-80."

Mr. Foster also said that if the roadways were not built, and the development proceeded, a "capacity constraint" or traffic jam would result. He also pointed out that the lack of roadways in the area hinders the development of the city-owned Campbell Industrial Park.

Mayor Ronald Harvey confirmed that the work on the two streets was going ahead, and said he had met with Transportation Minister Hugh Horner and Deputy Minister Leo Leclerc on the matter. However, he said he had received no confirmation of the 1979 date.

Council gave first reading to the bylaw which would rezone the Qualico portion of Woodlands.

Legal problems delay bylaw

The rezoning of the Woodlands area for subdivision by Carma developers encountered an unexpected obstacle this week. The bylaw, number 40/77, was expected to receive third reading at Monday's meeting, but due to a failure to comply with legal requirements, the city has been forced to retrace its steps and take the procedure back to the public hearing phase.

The city's error was pointed out at Monday night's regular meeting by St. Albert resident Derek Norton. Mr. Norton indicated that the schedule of zoning categories contained in the bylaw are different from the schedule which was advertised last fall. He asked if council was prepared to re-advertise the bylaw with the correct zoning schedule to comply with the law. The law requires that the advertisement of the public hearing appear in consecutive issues of a newspaper freely circulated in the community. The ad is to appear in this issue of the Gazette and tomorrow's issue of the Edmonton Journal. The public hearing will be held Monday, May 15 at 8 p.m.

Dollie's tea party

St. Albert Brownies 1st Pack staged a tea party a short while ago and invited not only their dollies, but three judges who were to pick a winner in four different categories.

The categories were the funniest hat, the prettiest hat, the most colourful and the most original. In addition, the judges were to choose the dollie with the prettiest or best outfit.

The judges had a most difficult task as the girls arrived with their dolls in tow and all decked out for a tea party.

And what a tea party it was! The juice flowed freely and there were plates of munchies to enjoy. And of course the winners took home their prizes.

A very good time was had by all. Judges were Betty Yarrow, Ann Bolton and Maggie Forbes.

- NOW THAT'S HATS -

Road closure gets second reading

At its regular meeting Monday night, city council gave first and second reading to a bylaw for the purpose of closing a part of St. Michael Street. The closure is being carried out to accommodate expansion of the Associated Medical Clinic. On a motion from Ald. Bakker, third reading was tabled until land sale negotiations are resolved.

A proposal for a temporary garden centre at Jasper Auto Parts was rejected by council as it was felt that traffic congestion would result.

Council passed a motion appointing Mayor Harvey and Ald. Breadner and Bakker to a committee which will meet with a committee from the MD of Sturgeon on an agreement respecting sewage services.

S. Mill and R. Tupling were appointed as Weed Inspectors for the city.

Council gave its approval to the temporary use of an area at 11 Meadowview for a sales office and garden centre. In approving the business's use of the premises, Ald. Smith commented that she was concerned about Special Study Areas such as this, which require annual review of business uses. She stated she hoped council would soon get the necessary design briefs to eliminate the review process.

Hospital workers to get paid medicals

It's a wonder how a simple matter like pre-employment physicals for work at the Sturgeon General Hospital could be complicated and twisted into an agonizing intellectual exercise.

The long and the short of it was that after this week's meeting of the Sturgeon Hospital Board, the board agreed in principle to pre-employment physicals and that they should be paid by the hospital. But how this eventually emerged out of the meeting was painful to behold.

A perfectly straightforward motion from Trustee Sheila Cooper that the board approve pre-employment physicals and the cost should be borne by the hospital was challenged by trustee Liesbeth Bakker.

She wanted this agreed to in principle and then wanted the board to go into the details. So Mrs. Cooper sat back to see her motion dissolve into nothing.

With the Cooper motion out of the way Mrs. Bakker introduced the motion (which amounted to the same as Mrs. Cooper's) that pre-employment physicals be made a precondition for employment. This motion also disappeared when it went down as a tied vote and was then resurrected, with an amendment from trustee Clay Crozier that the hospital pay for the physicals. This motion was carried four to one with Mrs. Bakker opposed.

Finally a motion was unanimously carried from trustee Roger Blackburn that the board agree in principle to the recommendation from the joint conference committee for physicals. Also that this be sent back to the committee regarding method and implementation, then brought back to the board for approval.

In pre-motion discussion Sturgeon General Hospital Administrator Cliff Keyes said that it would be "terribly unfair of us to expect the applicant or the employee to pay the bill."

It could amount to $20 a person.

Trustee Cooper said "We are morally obliged to pay for it," adding "I think it would be very chintzy of us if we didn't."

She felt the board should pave the way in the matter of paying for the pre-employment physicals adding "We want to be good employers."

QUILT WINNER

Early rising mosquitoes get zapped

The Mosquito Control program for the St. Albert area got underway this week.

While this was the first time up for the helicopter which sprays the sloughs and wet areas around the Sturgeon River and Big Lake, City Engineer Don Corrigan said the Edmonton helicopter was out the week before. Crews were spraying up to the Edmonton-St. Albert line into the Restricted Development Area (RDA).

Mr. Corrigan said the helicopter is used as and when required and "last year was only up three times."

The spraying program is designed "to try and get the larvae before they develop."

The program follows approved government procedures says Mr. Corrigan, and a provincial government applicator does the spraying.

On average, about two pounds of granular chemicals are sprayed over each acre. Another method of spraying is for government applicators to go into the field with knapsack sprayers.

On an average day last May, the 'copter sprayer could be spraying for 13½ hours covering 1800 acres of "mosquito territory."

Global citizens

More than 2,000 years ago Aristotle, the Greek philosopher, said that the size of a community is the range of a man's voice. The local community illustrated by this idea is still a very important one in creating feelings of belonging and as a base for our own culture. But with space satellite TV and global communications and jet travel we now have, even by Aristotle's definition, a global community.

The human family is an ancient religious concept. It is now, however, politically and technologically possible. The nation-state framework and the pre-Atomic Age structure of the United Nations does, however, restrain and constricts us from finding global solutions to problems of security and the terrible gap between outrageous poverty and sufficiency. Defending the nation-stage principle has resulted in current world military expenditures of U.S. $ one billion per day or pound sterling 500 million per day.

We need as one religious leader called for - a worldwide public authority for those issues of worldwild concern. But we must accept that no one political or religious philosophy has the total answer. We are a mosaic of cultures - sharing a finite planet.

To many the idea of global citizenship (as an addition to our local citizenship) is strange, unrealistic and impossible but to those interested and concerned about a project for actually creating a better world could I ask them, through your columns, to write to Global Citizens, Box 94, Stanstead, Quebec, Canada JOB 3E0.

Rallying call to Fairviewites

During 1978 the town of Fairview in the Peace River district will be celebrating its Golden Jubilee -- the 50th anniversary of the founding of the town with the arrival of the railroad in 1928.

We will be celebrating our Jubilee during the week of August 7 to the 13 with a great variety of activities, social, cultural and sports events.

Although we have sent out nearly two thousand invitations to former residents, we know it is not possible to reach everyone who has lived in Fairview that way.

We hope that through your paper we may reach some of our former neighbours who have not yet heard of the Jubilee and extend an invitation to them to come home for the festivities.

The Fairview Golden Jubilee Committee.

west and the Sturgeon River to the south. Development would take place over a 15-year period and would follow St. Albert's General Plan growth rate of eight percent - or 2000 population, per year. The expansion was agreed to in April of 1971 by the then town council and MD Sturgeon, to proceed on a neighbourhood by neighbourhood basis. In April of 1974 Genstar asked city council for permission to develop the next neighbourhood (north of Lacombe Park) which was tabled for a study done in June, and which produced a plan of identical boundaries to Genstar's Northwest Sector plan. The council changed in 1974 and nothing has happened in the northwest sector since.]

He then turned his attention to the westerly by-pass proposal as presented by MLA Jamison in March, and questions asked by aldermen about offers of land for the by-pass. Referring to the agreement between Genstar and the Rouault families (the two major land owners in the Northwest Sector Plan) Mr. Rogers said the agreement contained the total understanding between Andre and Ray Rouault and their wives and Genstar. The Rouaults would convey their lands (41.5 acres) needed for right-of-way and construction, to Genstar at the nominal cost of $3000 per acre, and "we would convey the 70 acres needed from our lands, plus the Rouault land to the province at no cost. We told the Provincial Government that," said Mr. Rogers.

The offer from Rouaults, Mr. Rogers said is effective for one year from December 31, 1977 - and would only apply with the Northwest annexation going through - from both their point of view and ours."

In connection with this agreement Alderman Ayotte asked if negotiations had been going on between Genstar and the Provincial Government, and Mr. Rogers replied "yes ... we made the offer last November." "Is there any commitment from the Province?" asked Alderman Ayotte, and Mr. Rogers replied "not that I know of." And the owners would sell to the government or to us.

"Operating under the assumption of a west by-pass," said Alderman Shields, "could it link to the river road?" "We have a study filed with the former mayor," said Mr. Rogers, "stating that we would pay for all internal servicing costs - which is not normal practice for developers. And we would provide connection such as McKenney, say to Highway 2 - which is standard practice for us."

In reply to Alderman Ayotte, Mr. Rogers said that the northwest annexation was presently in at the Local Authorities Board.

To Alderman Ayotte's question on planning Mr. Rogers said it would be the same as for Lacombe Park - three houses per gross acre, with a contribution of $1,000 per lot toward recreation and other amenity costs, with open space exceeding requirements, saving ravines as parks. The 105 acres given for roadway would be in addition to normal dedication. "Really" Mr. Rogers said "the annexation has been lost since the General Plan went through this council. Hearings ended last September, and we would have expected to have heard from LAB by this time."

CHANGES IN LAB STATUS

It would appear, he added that LAB is now an advisory board to the Alberta cabinet - "this influenced me to ask if I could meet with you, present some facts and ask for favourable consideration."

To your question could we hold back any development until a west by-pass is in - if there is to be one - I honestly say no. We would look to one neighbourhood moving forward and we have oversizing services in one existing neighbourhood. "There is going to be growth to the northwest of Edmonton whether in Edmonton or Morinville - even Beaumont is growing at about 200 lots per year. There is a shortage of lots Mr. Rogers said, and I feel there should be one neighbourhood at least approved, as submitted to council in 1974.

He also noted that schools in the area were assumed by the school boards, to which Alderman Shields asked "Do the school boards support your annexation?" No, said Mr. Rogers, but their administrations foresaw further growth in this area when they were planning future schools. Children he said are now being bused to the Cuts school, because of no growth in this sector.

Alderman Breadner asked about the implications if the west by-pass is in or out of our boundaries, regarding maintenance. "If designated a highway it would be 100 percent funded," said Mr. Rogers. If it was funded two-thirds by the province and one-third by the city, we would agree to assist that financing - not by a direct grant.

Replying to Alderman Breadner, Mr. Rogers said his firm had advised the Province last November that they would convey their lands for the by-pass at no cost, to which Alderman Breadner said that Mr. Horner did not mention it in the House.

Replying to Alderman Bakker on the McKenney extension, Mr. Rogers said the road is paved to south of the lake, and at that point there would have to be a rail crossing, which would be some years away. If the railway sees other crossings closed, he added, they would agree to substitute crossings.

He told Alderman Shields that the firm would use either an east or west by-pass to move coal from Starkey mine, and said the west by-pass was not conditional to the annexation. "But we obviously would not offer the land for an extension of a road which would be of no use to us."

Alderman Shields said he could see the advantages to Genstar if the by-pass was built and had no quarrel with the firm's planning, but the main benefit would be to Genstar, and his reaction to the idea was "negative." "I don't want to sound belligerent, but I'm an elected alderman and St. Albert residents have clearly stated they don't want northwest development at this time. From your earlier remarks I could almost imagine the plebiscite doesn't concern you. That gives me great concern - all the benefits are to Genstar - none are for St. Albert!

To which Mr. Rogers made three points: First we did not originate the presentation on the by-pass, which was by MLA Jamison; second we are offering only land within our property, and third - it is obviously to our benefit or we would not make the offer which would however, produce a solution for the area.

I would also like to point out that tax assessment for new areas is always greater than for older areas. Inland Cement would use either a west or east by-pass to transport coal.

Alderman Shields asked Mr. Rogers if he would support St. Albert and MD Sturgeon in their bid for an east by-pass.

At the Local Authorities Board hearings, said Mr. Roger, we took the stand and pulled the tape off the map which showed the west by-pass. Then we showed that there has to be a four or six lane west by-pass REGARDLESS. I've indicated how we will share the costs.

WILL NEVER SEE EAST BY-PASS

"And," said Mr. Rogers, "I have gone on record at the MD council that I, personally, don't believe we will EVER SEE AN EAST BY-PASS!"

In 1972 Edmonton had us reserve land for widening on 127th Street. Since they have told us to use the land - to the south is one and one-half miles of post war housing - a tremendous cost to acquire. So Edmonton cannot support it - it is just not practical!

Alderman Smith thought that Genstar's plans for resolving rush hour traffic in Castle Downs might be of help to St. Albert. But Mr. Rogers pointed out that Edmonton has put its eggs into the rapid transit basket, and plan to run rapid transit to Castle Downs, up the railway, across 113 street and then to St. Albert. St. Albert has the poorest priority, said Alderman Smith. She asked if the coal trucks could use #794 road west of Big Lake, to which Mr. Rogers said he couldn't speak further.

[The extra distance would be 14 miles.]

Alderman Smith also enquired about the use of the $1,000 per lot levy for recreation purposes.

The $1,000 was in 1976 dollars, said Mr. Rogers and is now $1,092 dollars. It is exclusive of the initial stage of the water reservoir - which is needed as of NOW. We suggested that $625,000 be paid initially - as soon as the next neighbourhood is approved. The $1,092 levy is for neighbourhood facilities - community hall, district facilities such as pool and arena, and contribution to policing, fire hall and new city hall.

"How does the $1,000 levy cover all that?" asked Alderman Smith.

"We went through all those things, and they added to $1,092 per lot said Mr. Rogers, or a total payment of 8.5 million dollars. The purpose of our study was to get a handle, because we can't make a commitment as requested by the former mayor, and particularly with changes in council, without a handle. New homeowners are taxed double as it is - so we had to study the situation to get a handle on it.

"There is no suggestion that the road dedication will take away from those amenities at all!" said Mr. Rogers.

MLA ORIGINATED BY-PASS PLAN

Alderman Smith asked "did you originate the west by-pass plan?"

No, said Mr. Rogers. Your MLA has been trying to get a road for years. He came to us and asked us how we could assist on a west by-pass.

But - WE initiated the response that annexation would be a condition of our contribution to the west by-pass cost.

"Was it the change of Cabinet versus LAB that prompted you to come to us?" asked Alderman Smith. Mr. Rogers replied that he came because there were questions he could answer for council, and that the situation has changed and the city can now make representation directly to the provincial government. "Cabinet is now in a position to VARY the position of LAB."

We paid thousands of dollars for LAB hearings and now you tell us we must pay more to lobby the Cabinet? said Alderman Smith.

No, said Mr. Rogers, there is no need for lawyers to go before the Cabinet.

Alderman Bakker thought there is an indication that the government is moving away from building roads - we might not get a west or east by-pass. "I am aware" said Mr. Rogers that St. Albert has contributed to bus costs. We could not argue if funds for the northwest sector were used that way."

Alderman Throndson asked if the Starkey mine would not be closer to Highway 2. Mr. Rogers replied that Genstar met with the MD a year and a half ago and the point was made that the most direct route is to the east - no question.

"But if that route is not available in whole or in part, then a roadway to the west - without the hills in St. Albert - without the lights through St. Albert, would be faster. Traffic balances out said Mr. Rogers - people will go whichever way is easier.

Turning to Alderman Shields, Mr. Rogers said "I do not disregard plebiscites - I have been on the other side as I told you - but plebiscites are like motherhood. If you ask "Do you want a park?" the answer will be yes. Ask do you want your city to grow? - people will say no. Plebiscites should be for the guidance of council.

Alderman Shields asked "Do you relate the plebiscite reaction to a bonafide General Plan as ratified by E.R.P.C.?" The plan cost thousands of dollars and a lot of time.

A plan is most important replied Mr. Rogers - but it is a living document which changes with time and needs. Ex-mayor Plain said at LAB that the General Plan was to last only five years and could be changed as need arose.

If a plan is based on an east by-pass which is not approved - and if you have a west by-pass possible - then that seems to be a VERY SIGNIFICANT CHANGE, replied Mr. Rogers.

Alderman Ayotte could not agree at all with Alderman Shields who said Genstar was the main benefactor of a west by-pass. Most people here were concerned at election time with improving traffic congestion, he said.

"The easterly by-pass is a DEAD ISSUE," added Alderman Ayotte, with regard to Edmonton and other people. We have the chance of a west by-pass which helps St. Albert. The main benefactor is the people of St. Albert who will not have to put up with trucks through their city."

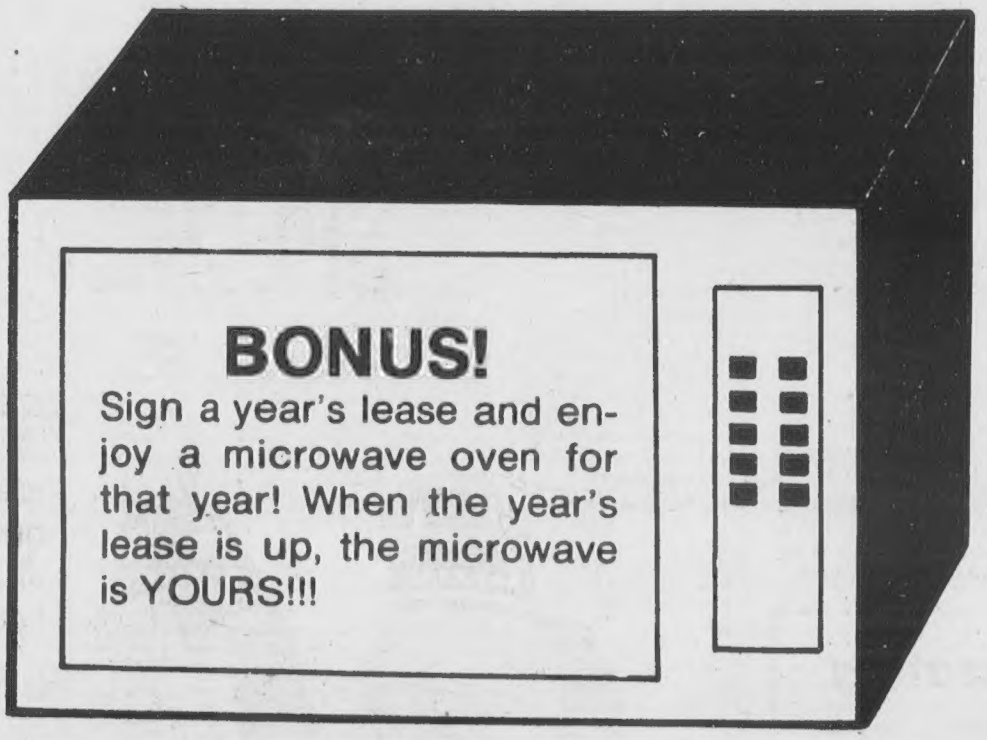

"Not only that" said Mr. Rogers - Morinville growth will also be coming through St. Albert.

Mr. Ayotte and Mayor Harvey thanked Mr. Rogers for coming. "You have helped clear up things for me," said Alderman Ayotte.

Auxiliary ball a big success

About 250 people had a thoroughly enjoyable evening at the Ninth Annual Spring Ball organized by the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary at Club Mocombo Saturday evening. A beautifully arranged smorgasbord opened the festivities and Mr. Bill Webber was M.C. for the program.

Auxiliary President Joan Webber welcomed the guests and told the audience that the auxiliary now has about 40 members who are assisted by 50 non-members, making a working group of ninety. She briefly reviewed the work of the Auxiliary in such areas as assistance on the pediatrics wards, kindergarten tours of the hospital, recycling books and magazines to patients, doing considerable sewing and mending, running two workshops, one in the country and one in the city, and managing the gift shop. Interested people are welcome to join the auxiliary which meets the second Monday monthly in the hospital cafeteria. Mrs. Webber thanked banquet chairman Marion Kay and the members of her executive for their fine support.

Alderman Rod Throndson, representing the city; MLA Jamison and Hospital Board Chairman Bill Flynn brought greetings and expressed their admiration of the work done by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Pauline Fleck, director of nursing presented pins recognizing 100 hours of service to Muriel Maandag and Pam Lavery.

The "Sound Merchants" kept the dance floor crowded and during the evening Mr. Webber presented door prizes to Ruth Ouimet, tickets to Stage West, and flower arrangements to winners Liesbeth Bakker and Odile Lesburg.

Convener Marion Kay and members of the auxiliary received compliments from all sides on a delightful Ball.

Hospital Ball convener Marion Kay assists master of ceremonies Bill Webber in presenting the prizes at the Auxiliary Hospital Ball last Saturday at Club Mocombo. Liesbeth Bakker, a city alderwoman, thanks Bill for the lovely flower arrangement. The other bouquet was won by Odille Lesburg, and the major prize - tickets to Stage West went to Ruth Ouimet, a hard worker of many years standing in the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary.

Members waver over knaver

A question as to the nature of a knaver had council members stumped at their regular meeting Monday night.

The question was posed by Ald. Liesbeth Bakker during a discussion of a proposed extension to Westcon Construction Products, 19 Riel Drive. Mrs. Bakker had a question about the nature of fumes she had seen emanating from the premises, but she never received a response. She then asked for a definition of the term "knaver" plant, which is to be constructed on the property. Council members looked blank, and no-one had an answer. However, during coffee break, Ald. Barry Breadner confirmed his belief it was a concrete curing shed and the matter was settled.

Council moved to approve the proposed extension. However, the matter of the fumes is still "up in the air."

Give blood tomorrow!

Don't forget the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic, sponsored by the St. Albert Kinsmen and Kinette Clubs, being held tomorrow, Thursday, May 4 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon and from 6 to 9 in the evening at the Royal Canadian Legion auditorium, located on Tache Street.

CHQT Radio will be on location at the afternoon clinic. McDonald's Hamburgers are providing a baby-sitting service at the Legion Hall in the afternoon and in the evening until 8 p.m. Bring the children with you and they will be entertained while you donate a pint of blood.

As summer approaches, the need for blood increases with the heavier traffic and resulting accidents on our highways. Now is the time for all of us to think of our fellow man and take the time to be a blood donor. Donating a pint of blood usually requires only one-half hour.

Take some time out tomorrow to be a blood donor.

EWAD - An attempt to humanize education

Education With a Difference is not new to North America, or Alberta, but it is a new arrival at the Paul Kane High School in St. Albert.

Heading up the course of EWAD 20 as it is known is Social Studies specialist Fred Schoenrock, along with 23 grade 11 students.

About 50 years ago, perhaps education deserved the stereotyped image of wooden desks and bleak decor, with a strict teacher in control of students who were only anxious to hit the streets with the four o'clock bell.

EWAD is one of those courses which make you realize just how much the approach towards education has changed over the past half century.

Some of Mr. Schoenrock's class will in the very near future be running their own version of the United Nations, to see better how that organization works.

Seventeen year old student Ken Jaques says some of the class will be doing their re-enactment of the United Nations this week, preparing things for the country they represent. The country they have chosen is Uganda, the controversial stamping ground of dictator Idi Amin.

The main aim of the EWAD course is to develop in the students a commitment to furthering their ability to think for themselves. They can do this by taking part in the world at large rather than being cooped up interminably in a classroom.

Mr. Schoenrock said his students went to the march on the Alberta Legislature when university students were protesting high tuition fees, with the prospect of them getting higher.

Students also took in a performance of Clarence Darrow at the Northern Light Theatre recently, then came back and wrote up their impressions and interpretations of it. The play is about the "Monkey Trials" of the 1920's in America after Darrow taught his then controversial theory of evolution, that we all may have derived from monkeys.

The EWAD class has also had a visit from the Food Commission. They regularly visit community organizations to clue up on the local scene.

Mr. Schoenrock says the course began February 1 and he and the students spent a month on "human interaction, to set up the foundations for self-commitment."

Another feature of the course is that as well as combining Social Studies it integrates with English 23. The class uses a medium known as the "Public Message," its own newspaper or newsletter, where students' written work of a high calibre gets a chance to be put in print.

So in terms of the program, the student chooses what to write about, says Mr. Schoenrock; they are not given topics, they can pick them themselves. Essays returned are corrected for spelling, grammar and punctuation.

While the program falls within the total framework of the Alberta Curriculum, it finds room to breathe because of the freedom it gives to the individual student.

As Mr. Schoenrock puts it, the course is student centred with a real attempt to democratise the classroom, as well as humanize education. "The student operates the program, they are the decision makers," says Mr. Schoenrock.

"You cannot force them to learn, as a teacher it is my job to stimulate self motivation."

Mr. Schoenrock also said, "You can either look at teaching kids specific skills or we teach them to think and to learn and to be decision makers and to be responsible for their time."

He adds, "Regardless of what occupation they go into later - they are better able to cope and change the situation they will be in."

Mr. Schoenrock says for the most part the students like the course.

"On the whole the vast majority are committed to the program and what they are trying to do."

Sixteen year old EWAD student Sheila McGregor told the Gazette, "We get a lot of practical experience in going out and seeing how everything is done instead of sitting in a classroom."

"You can get really into it when you are right there ... Wow, I was there! ... and I heard them screaming and singing and all that."

She said that parents' reaction to the course had been favourable but added that some of them did not like it, "because they think you are not going to learn anything."

Help given to severe stutterers

A program designed by a University of Alberta professor is helping severe stutterers to speak fluently.

And the success rate during his intensive summer clinics is more than 90 percent, putting the work of Dr. Einer Boberg, an associate professor of speech pathology and audiology, in the forefront of world attempts to deal with this curious speech affliction.

Dr. Boberg says, however, that the problem doesn't end with the successful completion of the program. He says that the temptation to fall back into old habits which stutterers face seems to be similar to that which faces those who have have changed their lifestyle by shedding excess pounds or by putting alcohol or tobacco behind themselves.

Yet he has found a void of research as to why such old habits die so hard. His future plans include an attempt to do something help fill that void.

Schools receive Dunant book

Each school in Alberta and the Northwest Territories which includes a Grade 12 Social Studies department, has recently been presented with a copy of the book "A Memory of Solferino" written by Henry Dunant, the founder of Red Cross.

The presentations, commemorating the 150th Anniversary of the birth of Dunant in 1828 in Geneva, Switzerland, were made possible through the Royal Canadian Legion North Calgary Branch #264 and Red Cross Youth of Alberta - N.W.T. Division, in co-operation with the Alberta Department of Education.

Dunant was a witness to the Battle of Solferino in Italy on June 24, 1859, in which 40,000 men were killed or wounded. After sharing his experiences, Dunant ended his book with a proposal: "Would it not be possible, in time of peace and quiet, to form relief societies for the purpose of having care given to the wounded in wartime by zealous devoted and thoroughly qualified volunteers?"

The book was widely read by the influential of Europe, and its challenge positively answered by the formation of the "Society for the Relief of Wounded Combatants" (later named the "Red Cross Society") and by the drafting of the first Geneva Convention.

The Red Cross Society is now operating in 125 countries, all of which have signed the Geneva Conventions. Dunant's birthday, May 8, is designated World Red Cross Day each year.

WI to send rep to provincial conference

Nineteen members and eight guests were present at the regular meeting of the St. Albert W.I. held on Tuesday, April 25 at the home of Nora Rouault.

Sadie Adams, handicraft convenor, displayed the handicraft items entered in the recent handicraft competition at the Constituency Conference at Colchester. The St. Albert Women's Institute brought home the handicraft cup, having a total of 93 points in the judging of the various handmade articles. The branch that came in second had 81 points. Sadie reminded members that an article is needed from each member by May 11 in order to enter the provincial competition.

During the business session the 10 resolutions to be brought up at the Provincial Conference at Olds, May 30 - June 2, were discussed by the group in order to give the voting delegate an idea of the group's feelings so that she would know how to vote.

Laurie Dalman, social services convenor, reported that a recent program on "Lady Beware for Girls" was held for teen-agers with 26 present. Thanks was expressed for the excellent presentation by the RCMP, which included a resource person as well as a film.

Since there has been a lot of sickness among the members, the coffee fund has been hard hit. It was voted to put $10 from the general fund into the coffee fund, to be used for buying cards, flowers, etc. It was also voted to raise the coffee donation from 15¢ to 25¢ per meeting.

The next regularly scheduled meeting was changed from Tuesday, May 30 to Monday, May 29. It will be held at the home of Kay Bonneville.

It was announced that Merelyn Henry's group will be in charge of planting the community hall flower bed this year.

Al Woods, representing the Insurance Agents Association of Alberta, was an excellent speaker on homeowners and automobile insurance. Each person present seemed to become more aware of the many details relating to these types of insurance. Mr. Wood urged people to go to the Superintendent of Insurance if they have any programs with their policies. He was accompanied by his wife, Liz, who also sells insurance.

A lovely lunch was served by Laurie Dalman, Irene Bokenfohr, Joyce Genereux and Marie Rouault. A beautifully decorated surprise birthday cake was presented to hostess, Nora Rouault.

Microwave ovens raises questions

The microwave oven, like any relatively new product, raises questions that aren't always answered in the advertisements.

For example: Is there potential danger in using a microwave oven? Should a microwave oven be tested for radiation leakage after purchase -- and who would be equipped to do the testing? Do these ovens really save time and energy? What features are offered by manufacturers, and are all of these necessary?

The results of Consumer Association of Canada's test of microwave ovens indicate that if these appliances are not correctly maintained, unsafe levels of microwave leakage could result. The Association also reports that a microwave oven does not always save time and energy. For instance, while a two-person household could save up to 85 percent on energy, savings for a six-person household would be negligible.

In the current edition of the Canadian Consumer magazine there is also a report on other uses of microwaves. The article highlights research which has been conducted on this form of energy, used not only in ovens, but also in radio and television studios and in radar stations. Possible hazards and the safety standards in Canada are also discussed. CAC recommends, among other things, that warnings be placed in a visible location on microwave ovens telling of dangers of oven damage and poor maintenance.

Year of the Nurse proclaimed

Flourishing the motto "prepared to care" emblazoned on posters, lapel buttons, bumper stickers and T-shirts, Alberta Nurses today launched The Year of the Nurse. For the next 12 months, until April 30, 1979, the people of Alberta will be made aware of the changing and expanding role of the nurse in today's society.

Making the proclamation at the opening of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses annual convention, Valerie Ayris, A.A.R.N. president, pointed out that nurses presently occupy a stereotyped position in the minds of most people - the lady in white who dispenses pills and sympathy to patients in the hospital. That picture changed a long time ago, said Ms. Ayris, and it's time a more accurate portrait were painted. As the province and its needs have grown, she said, the role of the nurse has expanded too. Nurses, in uniform and out of uniform, are working in a wide variety of areas. Some are conducting clinical research. Others are providing counselling and preventive health care through community clinics. Still others are making "house" calls to shut-ins and elderly people. The isolated rural health clinic, occupational and industrial health care, rehabilitation nursing, nursing education and administration are all areas requiring the specialized education of the professional nurse. Working in the belief that "to know is to appreciate," the A.A.R.N. will seek to inform the people of Alberta - those who receive health care and those who would like to administer health care - all about services provided in their day-to-day lives by experienced, qualified professional nurses and about the new and developing educational programs for the aspiring nurse. Advertising, information brochures, interviews and special projects throughout the province will be utilized throughout The Year of the Nurse to accomplish these objectives.

In so doing, Ms. Ayris pointed out, the Association expects to inspire its own membership with a renewed pride in its chosen occupation and a resurgence of ambition for continuing education and broader challenges.

Pretty baby is no shocker

PRETTY BABY
EDMONTON, WESTMOUNT
By Jim McIntyre

I was a little shocked at myself; I did not find this film disturbing, even though its subject matter is the brothel life of a 12 year old girl set in Storyville, in 1917, the former red light district of New Orleans.

To qualify my opening statement however, I must admit that there was a slight flush of what is left of my own innocence when child prostitute Violet (Brooke Shields), was auctioned off to the highest bidder to taste virginity in its most pristime form.

But if there is any blame, or any shame to be felt because of this daring escapade in celluloid, it lies fairly and squarely at the feet of fallen human nature which has been massacring innocence ever since Adam and Eve left the Garden of Eden.

One of the main reasons why I was not disturbed by this film was because of the sensitive treatment given by Louis Malle, who refrains from the orgiastic directness of those Emmanuelle films, which were sexual equivalents of a slaughter house or Damnation Alley.

While full play is given to the sensuality of Violet, (she really does come on with some precocity.) I have to think what girl does not around the age of 12 or even before come on with some awareness of her own sexual power.

How much more then would this be likely to occur in the setting of a brothel, crawling with senators, and men of political and military power?

I can see why this movie about child prostitutions was banned in Ontario; those with memories will recall that a 12 year old boy was murdered recently in a sex orgy and left dead in a massage parlour in seamy side Toronto.

Otherwise I cannot see any reason why this film should not be played uncut.

In a sleazy sort of way this is a relaxing movie to watch, taking us back to Rag time New Orleans at the end of the Great War, of which Violet is a victim of sorts.

There are intimate shots of what those old time brothels might have looked and felt like after it was time to put the cards away and get down to other business. Violet herself flits about the whorehouse like a restless butterfly and sometimes into the arms of a besotted photographer Bellocq played by Keith Carradine.

The brothel's madam is the one female in the establishment who really portrays the ultimate soullessness of the whore's profession. She sits later in the movie listlessly burning the unending supply of dollar bills as the self-righteous Christians of New Orleans demand the end of the brothel.

They wave their "Sin Stinks" signs at the unaffected hookers, who loll like overipe fruits on the verandahs.

Malle is not the first man to have explored the theme of the corruption of innocence. Shakespeare summed it up even more subtly in the words, "doth corrupt with virtuous seasoning."

Judging by the heavy turnout for this film on its first Edmonton showing, Edmonton film goers are not going to deny themselves this somewhat dubious treat.

Walterdale Theatre: winning Burrows comedy gives holiday from Simon

By Vicky Knight

For those suffering from a surfeit of Neil Simon, a welcome antidote is being administered at the Walterdale Theatre .. "Four On A Garden" adapted by Abe Burrows from a French play, consists of four playlets, each gently recounting the vicissitudes of the various denizens of a New York apartment. Unlike Simon, Burrows and the authors of the original play view the foibles of mankind with considerable compassion, and the respite from Simonesque mockery is pleasing.

The Sunday night performance I attended was a preliminary run, and still needed work on the first act. This playlet deals with a middle-aged couple who have been separated for a year. She is moving out of the apartment in which they spent their married life and her husband has arrived to collect his pathetic parcel of possessions. The dialogue here skitters about from one emotional plane to another, as is often the case in such circumstances -- they quarrel, they cuddle, they rage and they repent. There is a brief abortive attempt at reconciliation till both realize that the reunion just isn't in the cards. Perhaps due to approaching first night jitters, Mark Damien was rather wooden as the husband, giving little inkling of the talents he reveals in Act 3.

The elegant Fay Dafoe employed a tight-lipped trick of speech that was enormously effective in her portrayal of Beatrice, the uptight, socially ambitious wife. Comic relief was provided by Eric Saunders and Peter Bracking. Mr. Bracking was quite droll in his first appearance on an Edmonton stage.

Act 2 provides a glimpse of the ludicrous situations that can result in a May-December romance. A painfully sensible young lady is affianced to a middle-aged

For those who appreciate the delicate transluscene of watercolours, an exhibition of watercolours by contemporary English artist Sheila Girling will open Friday, May 19 at 8:30 p.m. The artist will be present at the opening.

Conn acrylics at Foyer Gallery

Featured in the Foyer Gallery in the Centennial Library during May will be an exhibition of acrylic landscapes by Molly Conn.

Molly Conn was born in northern England and came with her family to Alberta, where she enrolled in Victoria high school, Edmonton. She started teaching in a rural one-room school and achieved a B.Ed., and M.Ed. degree as well as a special certificate for the teaching of art in these early years of her career. Molly has taught English and art in Alberta for thirty-six years. She has belonged to several art clubs and received instruction from Alex Janvier, Takawi Tanabi, Dorothy Knowles, Diane Whitehouse, and the Edmonton Art Gallery.

When time and privacy permits Molly Conn paints her landscapes on location. She considers the extent to which she shares with the viewer the emotion she felt at the scenes is the measure of the success of her paintings.

Molly Conn's landscapes will be on display at the Foyer Gallery of the Centennial Library from May 2 to 31.

New Books at the St. Albert Public Library

By Karen Kennedy

If Life is a Bowl of Cherries - What Am I Doing in the Pits? by Erma Bombeck. In this uproarious encore to The Grass is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank Erma Bombeck confronts society's greatest challenge: Surviving the Seventies - the fears, the worries, the anxieties. She shares with her millions of readers some of her deepest concerns discovering that lettuce has been fattening all along; getting into the Guinness Book of Records under "Pregnancy: Oldest Recorded Birth," leaving the world suddenly and knowing that no one else in the family can replace a toilet-tissue spindle.

The Naked Island by Russell Braddon. Russell Braddon was sent to fight in the Malayan campaign as a member of the 8th Division. After only a few months of action, the Australians were captured and thrown into a life of demoralizing suffering: men dying like flies, or surviving in sub-human conditions at the mercy of their Japanese captors.

Russell Braddon was one of the few who survived both Pudu and the famous Changi prison camps. A realist, with a fine cynical wit, he could yet say "the longer one lived, the greater number of generous people one met."

Successful Small Business Management by Leon A. Wortman. According to the Small Business Administration, 82% of all new business fail within two years, and poor management is the overwhelming cause. Making a go of it isn't easy, and there is no magic management formula that guarantees success. In every business you add value to time, in the form of a service rendered, or to materials, in the form of labor to produce a component or product. In the process of adding value, you have every right to expect to receive a profitable return on your investment in time and labor, and this book shows you how to get it.

The Color Handbook of House Plants by Elvin McDonald, Jacqueline Heriteau, Francesca Morris. Although the house-plant boom has been with us for several years, not until now has there been a handbook combining in one volume the clarity of instruction, the reliability and completeness of information, and the utility and beauty of illustration to be found in this book.

Reunion by Fred Uhlman. Two boys the same age attending the same high school. One Jewish middle-class intellectual, one gentile aristocrat. Between them a friendship develops. A year or two later it is over. Nothing remarkable in that. Nothing - except that the time is the 1930s and the setting Germany.

Exotic Flowers and Trees. The botanical world at its most fabulous is captured in this fine book, from the subtle brilliance of rare orchids to the strange forms and behaviour of the insect-devouring plants. Outstanding colour photographs from many parts of the world reveal the miniature grace of desert flowers, the lush extravagance of equatorial forests, the grotesque fruits of far Pacific islands and the plants which produce poisons and magical drugs.

Closed World of Love by Archie Hill. Archie Hill, fighting his way back from a youth of alcoholism and prison, meets and marries a divorced woman with a son, Barry. But Barry is no ordinary boy. Unable to speak and barely able to move, he has grown into a manchild whose every need must be attended to by his mother.

When their own child is born, a normal, handsome, bright boy, Archie finds that he must come to terms with his feelings and find a way to make this new child understand Barry's world - a world Archie must first learn to understand himself.

Kid-lit roundtable

Anyone interested in children's literature is invited to attend the next meeting of the Children's Literature Roundtable discussion group to be held in the Edmonton Room, Centennial Library at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 26.

The topic under discussion will be the oral and written literary traditions of the Commonwealth and other countries. For further information contact Mary Norton at Dickinsfield Branch Library, 478-2811.

businessman who fancies himself a bit of a rake. The trouble starts when he is introduced to his future mother-in-law, a zany lady whose morals are rather laid back, to use the term loosely. The two discover that somewhere in their smouldering past on Fire Island, their fortunes had joined briefly, so to speak. Therein lies the problem. Is the rake about to marry his own daughter? Is incest a relative matter? Eric, Candy and Eva Roche are delightful as they confront their bizarre problem, particularly in a nostalgic little song and dance number that occurs with charming spontaneity.

An age-old problem is handled in the third act: a woeful, wealthy lady is being preyed upon by a jock-type gigolo, who has all the charm of a rattlesnake. George Bertwell was sufficiently effective in this part to encourage the loathing of every woman in the house, so well did he project the avaricious Joel. Fay Dafoe was dignified in her plight, and generated sympathy for her character without getting melodramatic. In this act Mark Damien revealed a laconic wit and a nice knack for comedy, as he played the obliging housepainter, who dispensed paint, panaceas and passion with admirable equanimity. This act was really a giggle.

The last act again featured the rollicking Mr. Candy, in cahoots with Kathryn Buchanan. Ms. Buchanan's comedic talents have been further refined since her appearance in last year's Klondike melodrama, and her mobile face and a nice sense of timing make Charlotte both funny and formidable. As the maid, Karen Gartner turned in a polished if brief performance.

The final lines of the play could have been deliverd to greater effect if the Walterdale had a curtain, as the absence of the curtain falling left the last line hanging anti-climatically. I've another nit to pick in regard to the costuming, which appeared to be of inconsistant quality. I was particularly put off by the tacky little red dress worn by Poncho Betty in Act 2 -- perhaps a fringed suede mini with head band and love beads would have been more effective, particularly to contrast with the staid matronliness of her daughter.$

All in all, however, the Walterdale has mounted an entertaining production, with a lot of belly laughs and some reflective chuckles. Particular commendations should go to Frank Glenfield, who took on the directing chores at the last minute, when Ted Paszek was unable to do so.

St. Albert High Reports

By Monica Tap

What a weekend it was for most of the students up here at St. Albert High! On Friday, April 28, the air was buzzing with anticipation as last minute preparations were being made for the evening prom.

The decorating committee went through close to one hundred boxes of kleenex to make the 10,000 beautiful "flowers" that were to adorn clouds, a rainbow and a bright spring sun.

Meanwhile, as the girls, flushed with excitement, transformed themselves from jean-clad teen-agers to elegant young ladies, and the guys, all spiffed up, became gentlemen; the good old runner-scuffed gymnasium became a story-book paradise.

As you entered beneath a wispy cloud #9, you had to cross a beautiful (but dangerous!) bridge leading into the wonderful land of spring hopes and dreams.

A rainbow disappeared briefly behind a fluffy pink and white cloud then continued down the other side leading to -- what else? - a pot of gold!

Written above the rainbow was the prom theme; "Everybody has a dream" - and I must say that dreams were never as sweet as on that Friday night.

The band, "Better Days," saw to it that everybody had a great time out on the dance floor too.

The grade 11 Spring Prom was more than just a youthful springtime dream for all who attended, yet now it is but a memory - a memory no less sweet than the dream itself.

If you intend to go to St. Albert High this fall and you have not registered, please contact the school at 459-7781.

On Monday evening the St. Albert Kinsmen gave special thanks to Principal Barry Findlater (left) and Vice Principal D. Parkinson (right) for their schools' efforts at this past year's Skate-a-thon. Mr. Findlater was presented a cheque by Skate-a-thon Chairman Wayne Poole (centre) for the sum of $200 as Lorne Akins was the Junior High School to raise the most money this year, and Mr. Parkinson was presented with the handsome trophy shown above for the students of Sir Alexander Mackenzie which raised the most money by an elementary school. Both the cheque and trophy will be turned over to the respective student unions.

Provincial badminton finals

As usual, players from Calgary dominated the Provincial High School Badminton championships at Red Deer during the weekend. However, the four players from Paul Kane also posted impressive records.

Rick Webber and Thoa Eyford posted a 6-3 (win-loss) record. This was identical to Kevin Sage's performance in "A" section singles.

Sandra Millman was added to the team on very short notice, and she showed well in competition as she won five of nine games.

Hideout Column

By Doyle

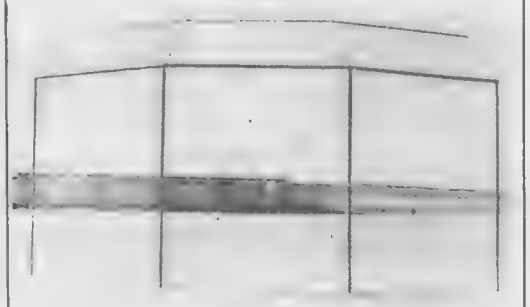

After getting off to a good start, the Hideout, like any other business, has had its problems. Nothing that we can't handle, though. What problems you ask? I'll tell you. One problem you might have heard over CHED radio, in a report that the Hideout was supposedly vandalized. Well it was not vandalized, one of the windows near the doors were broken. Nothing more than that. Another problem we are having is that some teens believe the Hideout is there to destroy not enjoy. The Hideout was organized for teen-agers so they have some place to go and sit down or play some of the many games down there. It is not to be abused.

One other thing is that the teens executive operates the events that go on at the Hideout with some help from the adults, it's not the other way around. We appreciate any sensible suggestions on how the Hideout may become a smoother operation. Just one more thing, if someone is bothering you while you are inside the Hideout, either tell someone at the door or at the concession and preventive action will be taken. The executive is there to help you, not hurt you.

If you wish to work at the Hideout please let us know by telling us when you are down there, or phone - 459-6601 extension 48 Brian Leonard.

Some build while others destroy

The two pictures above show improvements made to the Vincent J. Maloney school grounds. There is a new ball diamond backstop installed by St. Albert Parks and Recreation and an outdoor basketball court.

On April 20 thieves made off with the orange colored basketball rings valued at about $50.00.

Someone has no doubt fixed up a basket in his backyard, but deprived school kids of much needed recreational facilities. Citizens are asked to report to police (459-7721) strange goings on in school yards such as persons playing on school roofs, and apparent dismantling of equipment.

Our local RCMP attachment would like more citizen involvement in these matters and so would other authorities to whom taxes are paid.

Introduction.

Immigration is one of the most important influences in Canadian life. It always has been.

Immigration affects us culturally, socially and economically. Domestically and internationally.

To ensure that immigration continues to work for the good of Canada, our immigration law has undergone some significant changes. And whether you're a fifth generation citizen or just a visitor, you ought to know what's new.

The changes.

For the last four years, individuals and organizations have made suggestions for change to Canada's immigration law and policy.

Many of the responses received have become part of the new immigration law, designed to serve everyone's best interests for years to come.

For the first time, the basic purposes and principles of our immigration law are clearly stated in the law itself. All other provisions of the law, and the way they are carried out by immigration officers, now flow from these purposes and principles:

Non-discrimination. Reunion of families. Humanitarian concern for refugees. And the promotion of Canada's economic, social and cultural goals.

Just words you say? Well read on, because the rest of the new law has been carefully written to make it possible for Canada to live up to its word.

How it affects immigrants and visitors.

From now on, immigrants and those visitors who come to work or study must make all immigration arrangements before they arrive in Canada. No one may change his or her status while inside Canada.

Canada has always allowed sponsorship of the immigration of a wide range of close relatives. With the new family class, Canadian citizens can now sponsor parents of any age.

Canada has always protected refugees within her borders according to a Convention of the United Nations. This protection is now given the force of Canadian law. In addition, a new refugee class defines the when, how and who of accepting refugees for resettlement in Canada.

Civil rights of those involved in immigration proceedings receive greater protection under the new law. And deportation will no longer be the only possible penalty. There are now less drastic alternatives for minor infractions of immigration law. Immigration will not be easier, but it will be more predictable. Immigrants and visitors should always talk to their Canadian Government visa office before they make a move. That way, they'll know exactly where they stand when they step off the plane.

How it affects Canadians.

The new immigration law is a blueprint for the future. A flexible blueprint that allows for unexpected change. Its influence on the fabric of Canadian society will be subtle and long-range. Under the new law, the federal and provincial governments will share many responsibilities. To this end, formal agreements on immigration planning and management will be made with the Provinces.

Each year, after federal-provincial discussions, a target figure for immigration volume will be announced. The number will depend upon national, regional, economic and social goals. Immigrants will be encouraged to settle in places where their particular skills are really needed. They will be discouraged from settling in places where employment is a problem.

Generally speaking, illegal immigrants will find the law tougher than ever. As will those people who exploit illegal immigrants.

The new law, of course, will continue our tradition of strong protection against international criminals and terrorists.

In these ways and more, our new immigration law can only make Canada stronger. And a better place to live.

The future.

The future of immigration in Canada cannot be controlled by an ironclad set of rules. Canada's new immigration law combines humanity, justice, international responsibility and adaptability in a way that no other country's immigration law ever has.

We're proud of it. And we invite you to learn more by asking for detailed pamphlets at your nearby Canada Immigration Centre.

THEY'RE OFF

Students at V.J. Maloney school got May off on the right foot by staging an official start to their 50 Mile Club. Leading the group is 'Super Principal' John Kaminski. Mr. Kaminski retained the lead for about ¼ lap before being overtaken by most of his students who couldn't resist the opportunity to chide him on his effort 'Super Principal' managed only ¼ mile opening day but vowed his dogged persistence would carry him over the 50 mile mark before month's end. What's a mere 200 laps Mr. Kaminski? We'll be counting!

Teachers upset over proposed school year

Board the PD Committee pointed out that all school chairmen supported an increase in PD days to three in contrast to the proposal to cut PD days to one in Junior High and Elementary and none in Senior High.

The teachers say they need PD days during the year rather than at the beginning because they need to be acquainted with their students so that they may deal with actual student problems, programs and progress rather than approach these areas theoretically as would be necessary if the PD day occurred before classes began.

Teachers felt holding registration prior to the Labour Day weekend would confuse parents because all other systems start after the weekend. They also are convinced a large number of students would not register before the long weekend anyway which would mean confusion the week following. The early start would also cause problems with several teachers who had planned holidays running to the end of August.

Mr. Osgood asked that the Board set up a committee to bring forth a new school year and ideally set up for three years down the road. He pointed out that year was now on the negotiating table between the ATA and District 6 Board and should not be dealt with until the matter had been expedited at the negotiating table. He added later in the meeting that some sort of deal on the school year might have an effect at the bargaining table at a meeting tonight.

Following the defeat of Board Chairman Ernie Wynychuk's motion to approve the school year recommended by the superintendent (made early in the meeting to allow the debate), Trustee Wes Penner moved that the Board strike a representative committee to set a school year.

Trustee Shirley McCaffery spoke against the motion on the grounds the proposed committee would be discussing an item involved in contract negotiations.

Trustee Scott Friese preferred to make a decision on the school year from the information the Board had before it and at any rate would like to discuss the committee idea before making a decision to strike it.

Trustee Gary Hodgins liked the idea of a committee but agreed it would be difficult for the superintendent to strike a representative committee to discuss a matter which the ATA had put on the negotiations list. Superintendent Gish said he would be dealing with the EPC proposal for sure if the matter went to a committee involving teachers. He said he was hired to make decisions and did not prefer to bring forward committee reports; "Operating a District by committee is not the best way to do it. It diminishes the authority of the Board."

The majority of Board members seemed to agree with the superintendent's rational and voted to defeat Trustee Penner's motion to strike a committee.

Rod Throndson, principal of Robert Rundle School, and City Alderman, asked if the meeting to make the final decision on the school year would be held in public.

Board Chairman, Ernie Wynychuk assured him that the Board's decision would be made in public at its next regular meeting May 10.

Home of the Week

TWO CAR CONTEMPORARY HOME
Plan No. P1-3-277

This contemporary home, featured as the plan of the week, is designed for complete one-level living, and can accomodate future expansion on the lower floor.

The attached double garage has panelled doors, and a convenient exit door to the front entry stairs. Vertical siding covers the exterior walls and terra cotta brick is featured on the front wall. A large roof overhang gives complete protection at the front door.

A guest coat closet is convenient to the front entry and an arch opens to the large living-dining room. Service from the kitchen is through a pocket door.

Large family get-togethers are possible in the combined family area, nook and kitchen. A wood-burning fireplace can create that cozy feeling on cold winter evenings. The nook looks out over the sundeck putting mom in the centre of all activities while preparing meals in the well-appointed kitchen.

A second pocket door opens to the utility storage, and laundry area. The back door also opens into the utility where exterior garments can be removed and stored, saving mud tracking through the house. Off the back entrance is a large sundeck and stairs to the ground level.

Two bedrooms reached from the inner hall, are served by a full bath. For complete utilization a second door has been added making direct access possible from the family room through the utility.

The master suite has a large walk-in closet and plenty of room for a regular bedroom suite. In keeping with the excellence of design in the rest of this home, the three piece vanity shower adds luxury to the master bedroom.

Stairs leading off the inner hall descend to the unfinished basement where roughed-in plumbing and a fireplace await future development. There is room here for a recreation area, at least two bedrooms, a workshop and extra storage.

This ideal contemporary home can be built on a lot dropping off to the front, or a flat lot with a back-fill front.

Plans for design No. P1-3-277 may be obtained at a cost of $78 for a set of three and $9 for each additional copy. Allow $2 to cover postage and handling.

To view more than 100 well-designed quality homes of every type, send for the current publication of the Home Plan Catalogue, available for $2.60 ($2.25 plus 35¢ postage and handling). Make all cheques and money orders payable to "Plan of the Week" and mail to: Plan of the Week c/o St. Albert & Sturgeon Gazette, 324 Columbia Street, New Westminster,B.C. V3L 1A6.

JOHN 14

The Promise of the Holy Spirit

"If you love me, you will obey my commandments.

I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Helper, the Spirit of truth, to stay with you forever.

The world cannot receive him, because it cannot see him or know him. But you know him, because he remains with you and lives in you.

"I will not leave you alone; I will come back to you. In a little while the world will see me no more, but you will see me; and because I live, you also will live. When that day comes, you will know that I am in my Father, and that you are in me, just as I am in you.

"Whoever accepts my commandments and obeys them, he is the one who loves me. My Father will love him who loves me; I too will love him and reveal myself to him."

ACTS 1

Jesus Is Taken up to Heaven

When the apostles met together with Jesus they asked him, "Lord, will you at this time give the Kingdom back to Israel?"

Jesus said to them, "The times and occasions are set by my Father's own authority, and it is not for you to know when they will be. But you will be filled with power when the Holy Spirit comes on you and you will be witnesses for me in Jerusalem, in all of Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." After saying this, he was taken up to heaven as they watched him; and a cloud hid him from their sight.

They still had their eyes fixed on the sky as he went away, when two men dressed in white suddenly stood beside them. "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand there looking up at the sky? This Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will come back in the same way that you saw him go to heaven."

'Cascade of Song' at United Church

By Mary Usher

"Singing Our Faith" proves a vital experience.

From the opening strains of the Hymn of Joy to the last Hallelujah of the Battle Hymn, those present on Sunday evening in the St. Albert United Church were involved in a veritable cascade of song. Reverend Donald Waldon and Margaret Waldon swiftly became "Don and Marg" to the enthusiastic group. The audience did not know quite what to expect but soon found out they were not there to listen, but to take part. They were involved in choral reading of the creed, hymns ancient and modern, hymns improvised for the occasion, songs for children, action songs, even a wonderful group of posters by the younger members of the audience, illustrating things that were talked about in the intervals between songs.

The whole evening was a heart-warming experience, showing all those present just what total participation, forgetting all self-consciousness, can do to uplift the spirit. A tremendous thank you is due to Don and Marg for bringing this opportunity to St. Albert.

Community Services Report

Submitted by Community Services

SENIORS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Senior Citizens Club took place on Friday, April 28 and was very well attended. Mr. R. L. Byron, city manager, who was the guest speaker was first on the agenda. He spoke on "housing" which is a topic of particular interest to the Seniors.

Reports from the different committees and the past president were then heard. The outgoing executive certainly did an excellent job in the past year and should be congratulated.

The election of officers then took place. Following are the names of the new executive: Bernie Vaugeois, president; Thyra Parker, vice president; Ethel Cuts, secretary; Larry Nash, treasurer; and Hettie Blades, Fred Parrent and William Herron are the new directors. Congratulations to all.

Every Monday at 1:15 p.m. a group called the "Groovy Grannies" meet at the Centre for a choir practice. You will have a chance to meet and listen to the "Groovy Grannies" who will be performing at the Trade Fair on May 5 at 7 p.m. See you there!

Everyone is welcome to the Centre this Thursday, May 4 at around 12:30 p.m. for a short "Keep Fit" program. Following the exercises "The Second Spring of Samantha Muffin" will be shown. The film, which lasts about 30 minutes goes through various phases in Mrs. Muffin's life. After viewing the film, group discussions will take place.

Of course, some things won't change. Lunches continue to be served on Thursdays through the Meals on Wheels program.

The number which can be accommodated is limited and any senior citizen interested or anyone knowing of a senior citizen who would benefit from an occasional meal at the Centre should phone Hettie Blades at 459-4756 or Jenny Allan 458-0472.

The Old Time Dance recently held by the Senior Citizens Club was a great success. The music by the "Satellites" from Clyde was terrific, the lunch was delicious and the crowd fabulous. Everyone had a great time thanks to Fred Parrent who did a great job as convenor, assisted by Emile Laplante.

Following is a list of the sponsors and winners of the prizes: For the Oldest couple on the floor (prize from McLeods) was Maude Sinclair, age 82 and James Hagan, age 88; Spot Dance winners: Annette Charrois and Patrick Charrois, both of Legal; Mrs. E. Kapler, Red Deer, and Larry Nash from St. Albert. All spot dance prizes were donated by the Grandin Safeway Store.

Twelve door prizes were awarded and they went to: Mr. Willy Morasse and Mr. Art Morin from Legal (Dinners for two at the Settlement Restaurant); Louis Chartrand and Ireme Lemo (Grandin Bakery); Mrs. Alice Chalifoux and Mrs. Rose Cuomo (dinners for two at the St. Albert Inn); Mr. Louis Chartrand and Mrs. Helene Durand (Grandin Esso prizes); Mr. Robert Iske and Mrs. David Wangler (Grandin Park Cleaners); Mr. Maurice Demers and Mr. Emile Richard (Spartan Hairstyling). Congratulations to all the winners!!

TENNIS

The A league team from St. Albert again were the winners (also in the pre-Christmas League) of the Team Tennis League which plays at the Mayfield Indoor Club during the winter. Team members of this squad (which edged Royal Glenora by two points) were: Dave Kirk, Steve Kirk, Peter Miller, Betty Ontkean, Cynthia Sage and Judy Wood.

Tennis lessons offered by the Community Services Department are now filled and underway. The second session of lessons will be advertised in the Gazette May 10 and lessons for that session to commence May 29.

SWIM LESSONS

It is hoped that the Grosvenor Park outdoor pool will open on the long May weekend and that the first session of swim lessons for this year will go at that pool commencing the week of May 29. These lessons will be advertised in next week's Gazette with the applicable registration form (there is no advance registration) so watch for the ad and submit your registrations as quickly as possible.

CHESS CLUB

Anyone interested in playing chess once a week? It is hoped that there will be sufficient interest to set up a club in St. Albert. If you want further information please call Rick Anderson at 459-6028.

HANDICAPPED ASSOCIATION

Anyone interested in knowing more about the St. Albert Association for the Handicapped, should phone Jo Neilsen at 458-5795. Mrs. Neilsen is secretary to a steering committee that has been working on forming the association. The group would certainly be pleased to hear from you.

BABYSITTING REGISTRY

Jean MacKenzie, 458-1240 who "co-ordinates the co-ordinators," is still looking for two volunteer co-ordinators for the Grandin area. As you are aware, the Babysitting Registry provides a real service; clients with babysitters and babysitters with clients. This is strictly a referral service and the co-ordinators are not responsible for the conduct of the babysitters or the financial arrangements.

If you are looking for one of the two services mentioned above, please phone the co-ordinator listed in your area: Akinsdale, Mrs. Clague, 458-0141; Braeside, Mrs. Sass, 458-3281; Forest Lawn, Mrs. McConkey, 458-5923; Lacombe Park, Mrs. Giger 458-2693 or Mrs. Childs, 459-6241; Mission Park, Mrs. Manegre 458-0780 or Mrs. Jurgens, 458-0408 and Sturgeon, Mrs. MacKenzie, 458-1240.

FLY TYING

Anyone interested in taking an eight week, one evening per week fly-tying course can call the Community Services Department at 459-6601.

The course would cover basic fly tying, study of the entymology of a stream, fly fishing for streams and lakes and the history of the sport.

The registration fee would be approximately $50 which would include an excellent and complete fly tying kit.

Lifeguards gather for conference

The 1978 National Conference of the Royal Life Saving Society of Canada will be held in Edmonton at the University of Alberta May 11 - 14.

The St. Albert Fire Department had their hands full with an eager team of "helpers" when the Akinsdale-Forest Lawn Pre-School Centre visited recently. All set to go here are Robert James, Lorie Romanuk, and Ryan Stewart in front, backed up by Scott Robinson (dressed for action), Danny McDonald, Darrell Berg, Suzanne Scott and Shelley Arnush.

An Aquatic Emergency Care Symposium will be part of the four-day meeting, bringing together some 400 persons.

Starting at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, May 13, the following topics will be discussed at the symposium.

Dr. C. A. Bennett, chairman of the National Medical Committee, R.L.S.S.C., and a family practitioner in Toronto, will get the ball rolling with a welcome and introductions. Dr. Bennett's address will be followed by a presentation by Mr. Bill Owen, chairman of the Research and Development Committee for the National Surf Life Saving Association of America. He will speak on Basic Life Support-The Role of the Paramedic. A talk on Cardiac Arrest and the Obstructed Airway will be given by a speaker whose name has yet to be announced.

Dr. Frank Haley, anathesiologist at University Hospital, Edmonton, will address the group on the subject of Shock, followed by a talk on Unconsciousness. The latter will be given by Dave Fries, Reg. Nurse, Director of Emergency Care, Conestoga College, Kitchener and Chairman of Aquatic Emergency Care, R.L.S.S.C.

Hypothermia will be the subject of a presentation by Dr. John Hayward, Ph.D. Associate Professor, University of Victoria. Dr. John Butt, Chief Medical Examiner for the Province of Alberta will speak on the topic of "Dead or Not."

Mr. Don Dickie, B.Sc., a post graduate student in Kinanthropology at the University of Ottawa, will address the group on the subject of Stress. This will be followed by a presentation on Spinal Injuries, to be made by Dr. Hamilton Hall, Orthopedic Surgeon at Toronto General Hospital and Women's College Hospital; Assistant Professor, Department of Surgery, University of Toronto.

Following these presentations, the entire panel will field questions and relay information to the lifeguards and other assembled persons.

The symposium will close with a talk by Dr. Hall on the Assessment and Action to be taken in Cases of Multiple Trauma.

Games tickets half price for seniors, disabled

The program makes disabled and senior citizens eligible to purchase tickets to the XI Commonwealth Games, August 3 - 12, at half the lowest price for all 84 Games events.

In response to the interest expressed by the disabled and senior citizens, about 10 percent of all available tickets were reserved by the Foundation executive in February 1977. All other Games tickets are sold to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis.

Ken Kuchinski, Chairman of the Tickets Committee in the Foundation's Tickets and Accommodation Division, said Division workers have prepared a special tickets and accommodations brochure for the half price tickets.

Ticket applications will be accepted up to May 15, 1978, and are available at the following locations: Alberta Council on Aging, 503 - 10012 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, telephone 429-7781; or at the A.C.T. Recreation Centre for the disabled, c/o 10th Floor, C.N. Tower, Edmonton, telephone 428-7905.

The application form provides space to indicate whether or not accommodation is required, and whether the applicant will be accompanied by an attendant.

There are six classifications of limitations on the brochure: Stretchers and wheelchairs; limited mobility needing aids; limited mobility due to physical disorders; mentally disabled; senior citizens; and hearing impaired. The first two classes may qualify for special transportation for themselves and an attendant.

Community services spring programming

It is still possible to register in a few of the workshops which were advertised in the spring brochure.

There are openings in the batik workshop which will be held in the Arts Centre on May 26, 27 and 28. Participants will be introduced to the ancient art of wax resist and dry application on cloth.

On May 27 and 28 there will be an opportunity to get outdoors and pick up the bright spring colours at the watercolour and sketching workshop which will be based in Grandin Clubhouse. This is for both beginner and advanced painters.

A macrame workshop will be held in the Arts Centre on Tuesday, May 30 when the emphasis will be on outdoor projects - summer sandals, pot hangers, etc.

For further information about the foregoing, please consult the spring brochure. To register, submit name, address, telephone number and the appropriate fee to the City of St. Albert, Churchill and Grandin, indicating the course your're registering in.

Around Town

Sadie Ross dropped by the Gazette office briefly on Monday, in the midst of whirlwind preparations for a trip abroad. Sadie is going to visit the Holy Land for three weeks, and then will spend another week cruising the Greek Islands. Following the cruise she will stop off in Paris for a visit with her son Neil John. Sounds idyllic, Sadie!

SUBSCRIBERS ! !

The distribution of our newspaper is handled in three ways: on newsstands, through the mail, and by our team of carriers.

The vast majority of our readers prefer receiving the Gazette from our carriers, and it is their job to ensure that you get the Gazette as early as possible every Wednesday, what ever the weather.

Lately, the most difficult part of the carriers job has been collecting from customers. People, now are more on the go, and therefore more difficult to catch at home.

We shouldn't overlook the problems caused by holidays and moving. It is difficult to remember money owed to a carrier.

For greater convenience to all, we are hoping that our readers will take this opportunity to subscribe to the Gazette on a yearly basis.

You won't have to worry about having change on hand, or the carrier bothering you at inopportune moments. The carrier will save time working his or her route, therefore affording them more time with their friends, family and personal activities. The carrier will still receive full creditation for the delivery (.07¢ per paper delivered). If you are moving or taking holidays, just give us a call, and the necessary adjustments will be made(subscription extension, transfer, etc.).

If you move away, you can keep up on local news through the mail by having your paper follow you to your new address.

Simply fill in the coupon below and mail it to the Gazette, or drop by our office at 31 Perron Street.

Parade and games usher in 1978 baseball season in St. Albert

"I hereby declare the 1978 St. Albert Minor Baseball season officially open." So said SAMBA President Lorne Ross Saturday morning at Lorne Akins sports complex. And, open it was. Baseball was at last underway in St. Albert.

The almost-postponed St. Albert Baseball Day, parade and all, slipped by with few hitches despite unfavorable weather prediction by "those in the know."

Yes, it was a beautiful day for baseball. All scheduled games, in all divisions, came off like clockwork, much to the delight of the numerous fans in attendance.

The lone exception was the midget get-together between the veteran St. Albert Willowbrook Saints and the first-year St. Albert Cardinals. Falling rain the night before made a quagmire around first and second base. Playing conditions were impossible. This affair is rescheduled for next Saturday, same time, same field.

After the "Parade of Players" found its way down Perron Street, turned left on to Churchill and terminated at Lorne Akins field, the opening ceremonies began with short speeches by MP Peter Elzinga, MLA Ernie Jamison and the honorable mayor of St. Albert, Mr. Ron Harvey.

A concession stand, spearheaded by Bud Reiniger, did 'land office' business throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Reiniger and a host of lovely ladies from the SAMBA auxiliary deserve a big round of applause for their tireless efforts dispensing hot dogs and soft drinks, in rapid-fire order, to hungry and thirsty line-ups.

Yes, as was said before, it was a beautiful day for minor baseball in St. Albert.

Request to sport organizations

The Gazette would like to receive season schedules of sports programs such as baseball, fastball, soccer, football - any organized sport - from St. Albert and centres in M.D. Sturgeon. Just send in your league's schedule to the Gazette, Box 263, and our sports department will try and get out to as many games as possible.

SAMBA Parade launches baseball season

St. Albert's minor baseball teams in full regalia joined their coaches and league directors for a parade up Perron Street and Sir Winston Churchill Avenue from the Mission diamonds to the Lorne Akins complex Saturday morning. Mayor Ron Harvey, MP Peter Elzinga and MLA Ernie Jamison were on hand to toss out the first pitches in the Mosquito, Beaver and Bantam divisions. The results of the opening activities appear on page 29.

Comets awards banquet night a success

The annual St. Albert Comets hockey club banquet and awards night was held Friday night at the Club Mocombo and from all reports it was a very entertaining and successful evening.

Over 150 couples attended and master of ceremonies Bob Lister did a masterful job in helping present the many trophies and speaking on the past season of the Comets.

Carey Winquist and Larry Stewart were the only players to receive two awards.

Winquist took home the Jasper Parts trophy as the team's most valuable player, and shared in the playoffs most valuable player award with Dale Henwood. Comet President, Claude Contant, presented his firm's Satelite Painting trophy. (Winquist and Henwood shared the goaltending duties this season and were the best in the league).

Stewart, in his first season with the Comets, captured the Niagara Finance award for the team's least penalized player, and also the Beneficial Finance trophy as the player displaying good sportsmanship, positive leadership and playing ability.

Paul St. Cyr took home the best defenseman award donated by Shell Farm Supply.

The oldest award in the club went to one of the youngest players as Matt Lister, one year out of junior hockey, was the team's top scorer and was presented the S & W Trail Service trophy.

Club President Claude Contant thanked all those who made possible the club's success this season and hoped that they could repeat next year and hopefully bring home the Intermediate "A" title.

Boxers show well in Fort McMurray

Two wins in Fort McMurray

Dave Stephen stopped two Fort McMurray fighters with less than a half hours rest between bouts. Dave has gone undefeated in his four bouts.

Undefeated

Martin Teuber added one more win to a growing list at a fight card held in Fort McMurray April 22. Martin decisioned Hyram Tynan in his bout.

The St. Albert Boys Boxing Club took four boys to Fort McMurray on April 22 for a dinner card on April 22 and what a success it was!

Held at the Peter Pond Hotel all tickets, at $17.50 each, were sold days beforehand and scalpers were charging $50 for a ticket by fight time.

There were only five junior bouts on the 11 bout card and our St. Albert boys participated in all five-winning four.

It is a reflection on the St. Albert club that whenever junior boxers are required to fill out a fight card of any importance our boys are always the first to be invited.

Following is an account of how the boys made out:

Dave Stephen (95 lbs.). Dave fought twice with less than a half hour rest between bouts. In his first match Dave decisioned Duane Belcourt an experienced fighter with six previous bouts. A half hour later Dave decisioned tough Richard Phillips an even more experienced boxer with 12 previous bouts.

Prior to the Fort McMurray trip Dave had only two fights but had won the Provincial Championship in only his second bout. A good stand-up boxer/puncher Dave is now undefeated in four bouts and is always in good shape and ready to fight.

Martin Teuber (100 lbs.). Martin decisioned Hyram Tynan, a hard hitting experienced boxer with 10 previous bouts who outweighed Martin by 10 lbs. but could not cope with Martin's superior conditioning and power punching.

Undefeated in nine bouts Martin is Provincial, Bronze Glove and Winter Games Champion having won gold medals in all three events.

Peter Richmond (105 lbs.). Peter gave away 8 lbs. to Kevin Smallwood but still won an easy unanimous decision. Winner of six out of seven bouts Peter won gold medals at the Winter Games and Bronze Glove Championships.

Grant Arneson (85 lbs.). Grant lost a close decision to Sheldon Belcourt. Grant accepted this match with only two days notice and was not in the best of shape. However, he will be ready for the rematch and coach Taffy Williams is confident the results will be reversed.

Winner of three out of four bouts, Grant is the Provincial and Bronze Glove Champion.

Coach Taffy Williams and Trainer Wilf Richmond worked the corner for all five bouts. Team supervisor Tony Rapati and gym master John Cockle handled the many other details.

Manager Del Larsen was unable to make the trip but was naturally very pleased with the results.

Cricket anyone!

Edmonton Junior Cricket Association will be holding a coaching clinic for anyone interested in coaching or getting involved with junior cricket.

Cricket is a fast-growing sport in Edmonton and games can be seen each Saturday and Sunday throughout the summer at Victoria, Coronation and Diamond Parks.

The cricket coaching clinic is free and anyone over 18 may attend.

It offers a short introduction to the game and how to coach young players.

The clinic will take place in the gymnasium of Victoria Composite High School April 28 till April 30, starting Friday, April 28 at 7 p.m., then Saturday 9:30 a.m. till 5 p.m. and Sunday, noon to 4 p.m. Those interested may take it all in or just part of it.

The clinic will be led by Geoff Williams, Alberta member of the Canadian Cricket Association Board. Take your shoes and bring a friend and a bat, if you can.

For further information, contact John Barnes: 435-5641.

Territorial Juniors win three in exhibition play

St. Albert Territorial Juniors Fastball Club had a great weekend in exhibition play as they came up with three straight wins.

The Juniors played a pair of games Sunday, winning 12-10 over the St. Albert A's and then travelled to Calahoo where they upset the Chiefs 16-9.

Monday night saw them back in action against the A's and the result was the same as the Juniors won 11-7.

Sunday afternoon's game with the A's saw Steve Lister and Wayne White hit home-runs to lead the Juniors.

In the Calahoo game Mike Mitchell led the Juniors with a pair of home-runs and combined with Blaine Galbraith to limit the Chiefs to nine runs. Larry Mitchell had a two-run roundtripper for the losers.

Monday night the A's were up 6-1 after four innings but a disastrous fifth inning saw them make a few errors and the Juniors scored 10 runs and a 11-7 win.

Mike Mitchell had a home-run for the winners while Rick Wright and Jay Taylor had home-runs for the A's.

Comets fold

Comets Manager Claude Contant announced Monday that the St. Albert Comets have asked for a one year leave of absence from the Alberta Major Intermediate Hockey League.

The league has granted the Comet request with regret.

Manager Contant told the Gazette that a lack of fan support and head office organization have resulted in a bad financial situation for the league and Provincial 'B' champs.

The club had good fan support during the season but it dropped off considerably during the playoffs - a time many clubs either "make it or break it."

Claude also added that the lack of support in 'running' the team was a big factor in his decision to cease operations.

The AMIHL will operate with five teams next season with the possible addition of Ponoka making it six.

The Comets have until July 31 to let the league know if they are changing their decision, but manager Contant says this would be unlikely. That is unless the club can come up with a minimum $5,000 sponsorship.

The winner of the Club's trip for two to Las Vegas or $650 was Mr. Otto Rachor of 311 Grandin Village. Mr. Rachor chose the cash prize.

Top lifeguards to compete

The second Annual National Lifeguard Championships will be held at the University of Alberta, West Pool; May 13 at 7 p.m.

Forty lifeguards from 10 different branches across Canada will compete in the three-hour event, which includes keeping a person alive at the bottom of the deep-end of the pool for five minutes. This is done by taking down mouthfuls of air to the "trapped" victim.

The Alberta and Territories Branch of the National Lifeguard Service will be represented by a team from Edmonton's O'Leary Pool. Joy-Lynn Dorash is the captain with Michael Dubas, David Raboud and Sandra Annicchiarico, making up the remainder of the rescue team.

The championships are held yearly as part of the Royal Life Saving Society of Canada's annual conference.

About 400 persons are expected to attend the four-day conclave which starts on May 11.

Included in the program is a Symposium on Aquatic First Aid, also on Saturday, May 11.

Minor baseball off to a good start

as told by Uncle Rick

As you no doubt read elsewhere in this section, 1978 baseball season is officially on the road. It promises to be even more exciting than last year's wonderfully successful slate of games.

This year is slightly ahead of last for one thing. More parents and well-wishers are attending games like never before. Two of our leagues have more teams - bantam and midget - and in most cases, the players are in full uniform. Not too many communities can say that nowadays, but St. Albert is rapidly becoming a true baseball community.

We can see it in the quality of play and players, and especially in that dedicated bunch of guys they call "coaches."

Again, this year, division heads have done a tremendous job of recruiting bosses for their respective teams.

Since Bert LaBuick, mosquito division head, was the first to furnish us with his list of coaches may we salute them this week? Okay, here goes: Congratulations to Bob Smilanich of the Belmont Bombers. Bob is back for his second year. Welcome to new coaches Larry Olexiuk, Graham Giants; Bernie Poulin, Sturgeon Meat Market; Perry Garvin, Buxton Eager Beavers; Bruce McGlasham, Safeway Seals; Keith Stephens, Melton Mighty Mites; Bob Robinson, Gazette Giants and Chuck Jones, Red Roosters.

Hey Burt, what are we going to do about two teams called the "Giants"? -- apparently, it's a very popular name.

With the season barely underway for the Mosquitos (baseball, that is) we'll have to wait until next week to print their standings. In the one game result turned in, Monday night, it would appear the Buxton Eager Beavers got the jump on the Sturgeon Meat Cutters with a 29-5 slapping. Winning pitcher for Buxton was Earl McColley.

St. Albert's Beavers, youngest members on their way to scouting got together for a weiner roast last Thursday, thanks to a great idea by their leaders. Beaver, who range in age from five to seven years start their season in September and enjoy a summer camp in May. About 70 youngsters and leaders are involved, with 25 boys and five leaders to a pack. Leaders are John Loewen, Wayne Bamford, Bryan Strong, Garry Pansegrau and Ron Sigurdson. Safeway and the Pop Shoppe kindly came up with the most important ingredients for the party.

BEAVER DIVISION

The Crown Well-drilling Roughnecks are off to a good start with two wins against no defeats. After a close 15-13 win from Nu West's Homers Saturday, they came back strong Monday night to rough-up Neil's Trailer Kings 21-7.

Nu West had "open house" on the Sturgeon Valley Sod Busters 13-9 Monday evening. Rod Sopiwnyk hurled the victory for the Homers.

The other undefeated teams, Cubs and Angels, squared off last night on diamond #25, Lorne Akins field. The Sportshop crew came from behind to outscore Neil's Trailer Kings Saturday 8-6.

BANTAM DIVISION

Pennington's Blasters and Neil's Trailer Kings, the only unscathed squads in bantam division play were expected to have a donneybrook on Lorne Akins Diamond #23 last night. At press time no score was reported.

The Blasters claim to fame was a scary 7-5 win over the Link Hardware Blue Jays Saturday.

Neil's Trailer Kings, last year's bantam champs, ran over the Nu West Homers 10-2 on Saturday afternoon. Greg Reiniger pitched the win for the Kings. Neil Walters slugged a round-tripper for the winners. Warren Mitchell looked good in defeat, they say.

Sunday afternoon, the Trailer Kings travelled to Edmonton for an exhibition tiff. They lost 10-2 to a strong Kilkenny Bantam team and also lost pitcher Reiniger's services indefinitely. Greg saw three innings of centerfielder duty but threw his arm out of kilter on a long toss to the plate.

The Big M Burger Boys, coached by newly arrived Bob Lewis, will be a force to be reckoned with as soon as fireball thrower, Terry Yost returns to his mound chores after a stint of rheumatic fever. Terry is expected to assist the Burger Boys in large amounts. Already they've dropped two contests, 17-7 to the Bronks on Baseball Day and 15-10 to Nu West Monday.

Russ Cockwill received credit for the 11-10 squeeker his Blue Jay mates had over the Belmont Bronks Monday. Warren Schneider's home run helped the cause, no doubt.

That good looking concession stand which served so well last Saturday is the product of Dennis Cockwill, SAMBA's Umpire in Chief. Dennis, with the assistance of a group of Boy Scouts, erected the stand in a week's time. Materials were donated by midget coach Art Balog ... many thanks for a job well done.

New time for SAMBA's TV program on Cable Five is 8 p.m. every Wednesday evening. See you then?

In case you've forgotten, "Diamonds are a boy's best friend" SAMBA will see to that, eh, Lorne?

Paul Kane fund raising culminates in weight machine

Paul Kane's most successful fund raising event ever, tinkled, clinked, and sometimes crashed to an end late Saturday afternoon at the St. Albert Bottle Depot. Over $900 was collected by 11 teams of volunteers organized by the physical education department.

Paul Kane students and staff would like to thank the citizens of St. Albert for their contributions and support during the drive. This event marked the conclusion of a number of fund raising activities over the years whose revenue assisted in the purchase of a new Multi-Station Universal Gym

While the bottle drive put us over the top, milk machine profits and proceeds from the Thai Educational Development Program also contributed.

The Universal Gym, a 15 station weight training apparatus, will provide Paul Kane students with a facility for tremendous growth in the area of fitness and strength improvement.

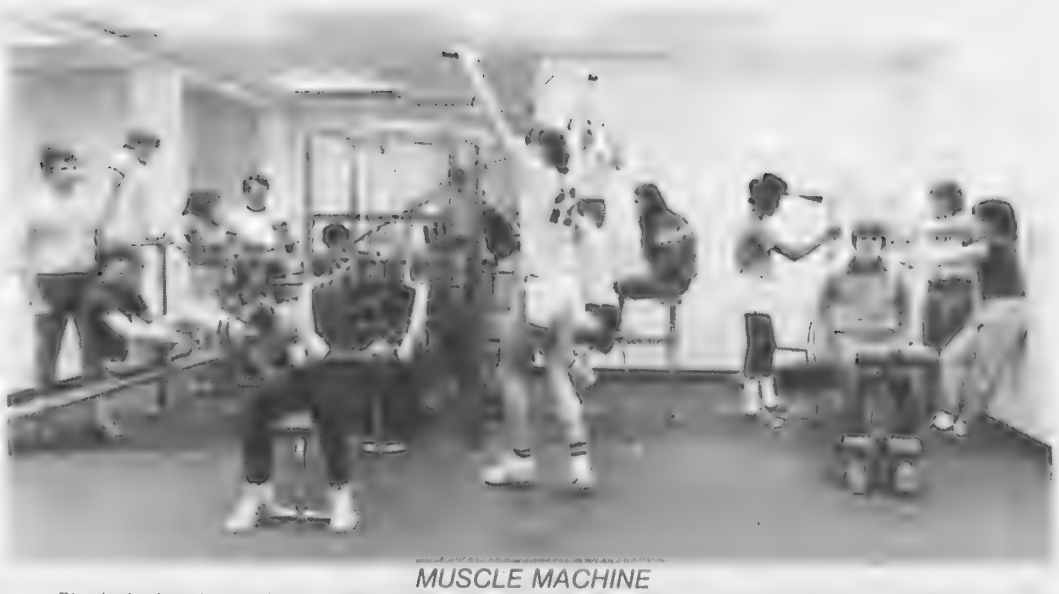

The Universal will become a integral part of a Physical Education Program to which all students will be exposed. Equipped with a program for all sports as well as remedial programs, physical education students will be able to complete an extensive fitness unit emphasizing strength development.

In the Physical Education 30 program the Universal will be a useful tool in a unit in which students test themselves, develop their own program, post-test and finally, evaluate and report on their progress.

As well as classroom work, this machine will prove to be very valuable in a pre-season training program for all extra curricular sports. Coaches of the Paul Kane Wrestling, Gymnastics, Volleyball, Basketball and Track teams have shown keen interest in the weight machine.

Interest has also been shown by students and staff in the formation of a fitness club. Classroom teachers have come forward and volunteered to be involved and this could prove to be a tremendous asset in improving the general physical fitness of students and teachers not involved in physical education and extra-mural programs.

Anyone wishing to see and try out our new Universal Gym machine may do so during the next open house function at Paul Kane High School.

MUSCLE MACHINE

. . . Physical education students at Paul Kane are the proud possessors of a new multi-station Universal Gym. The students have been involved in various fund raising projects over the past couple of years to bring the equipment to the school.

St. Albert applying to Capital Junior Hockey League

St. Albert has reapplied to enter the Capital Junior Hockey League -- a league a St. Albert team has been absent from for three years.

Bob Couture, chairman of the St. Albert Kinsmen Minor Hockey Association - representative division, announced the team would be under sponsorship of the representative division if the story is accepted.

It is expected CJHL President Dave Lillycrop will make the announcement of acceptance or rejection before June 1.

The team, as yet unnamed and without a sponsor, will be part of the eight-teams now under the sponsorship of the representative division.

There will be two peewee teams, two bantam teams and two midget teams -- both "A" and "B" categories, along with the CJHL entry and at least one juvenile team.

At present it is proposed the CJHL team would be made up of players only from St. Albert who are either in St. Albert's minor hockey ranks now or who have graduated from St. Albert's minor hockey program.

The age maximum for the CJHL team is 20 but the representative division is hopeful most of the players would comprise Juvenile age (17 and 18) players with some older players making up the nucleus of the roster.

At the same time the representative division decided Monday to place four teams in a newly structured Sturgeon-Pembina Hockey League, which will include teams from St. Albert, Sherwood Park, Morinville, Westlock and Barrhead.

The teams will be peewee B's, bantam B's, midget B's and juvenile B's. The juvenile league will consist of at least eight teams, including Athabasca.

St. Albert's three "A" teams in the peewee, bantam and midget division will likely stay in their present leagues which include teams from Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Camrose and Sherwood Park.

The representative division also revealed coaches selection for the eight teams has been put back to July 15.

Originally applicants had been requested to submit resumes of themselves before April 29 but at that time it was intended all teams would have spring tryouts in May and it was felt necessary to have new coaches for all teams.

The May tryout proposal has now been cancelled and all tryouts will be held in the fall. As such, coaches are not needed, and the extension was made to allow some people now contemplating coaching to make application.

Coaches are being sought for all teams and interested individuals should submit resumes to Doug McConachie, chairman of the coaches selection committee, 11 Falcon Cres., in St. Albert.

Representative officials are currently discussing sponsorship with last year's sponsors for the 1978-79 season, including a sponsor for the CJHL team.

Sponsors are expected to be announced by June 1, but already RMC Sports, Territorial Leasing and Integrated Builders have announced they will again sponsor teams.

Badminton championships start tomorrow

Edmonton's Wendy Clarkson, Vancouver's Bruce Rollick and Montreal's Ian Johnson, currently a student at York University in Toronto, approach the 1978 Canadian Badminton Championships in Edmonton, May 4 - 7, with mixed emotions. Varsity Arena, U of A is the championship venue, as it will be for the Commonwealth Games in August.

With Wendy it's a point of pride. Ranked No. 4 in the world and conqueror of World champ Lene Koppen in the All-England quarter-finals last month, she is keeping her fingers crossed in hopes of meeting Jane Youngberg, from Surrey, B.C., in the women's singles finals. Jane, you may recall, took Wendy's Canadian title away last year and Clarkson not only wants it back, but wants it back in a direct confrontation. They're on opposite sides of the draw so the match is a distinct possibility.

Rollick, seven times Canadian men's single champion, is scratching his head about of Ottawa, with reigning Canadian king Jamie McKee of Toronto, safely on the other side of the draw. The problem - Rollick has not lost to McKee in three years, but has lost several times to Czich. He has to beat his nemisis from Ottawa to get a shot at McKee and his eighth Canadian crown.

Two things worry Ian Johnson, the leg he injured in Mexico last fall and the Commonwealth Games this summer in Edmonton. The York student hasn't played since the injury while representing Canada. With partner Pat Tryon, also of York, Ian is current Canadian men's doubles champ. The Varsity Arena tests will be the first for the leg, but if Johnson and Tryon repeat their doubles crown defence, they won't be eligible for the Commonwealth Games here, as Tryon is an American citizen and ineligible.

The 1978 Canadian team will be selected following the championships in Edmonton, and Canada's Commonwealth Games badminton team the luck of the draw. He's on the same side as John Czich will largely come from it.

Albertans with bright chances for both the Canadian and Commonwealth teams include Clarkson and Edmonton's Greg Carter, along with Sharon Crawford, Tracy Van Wassenhove, Sheri Boyce, Lesley Harris, Don Smith and Bob MacDougall, all of Calgary.

Another Alberta prospect is former Czechoslovakian junior champion John Novotny, now a teaching professional at the Royal Glenora. In badminton, teaching pros are eligible to play in amateur events, although pros who play for money are not. Thus Novotny is not only eligible for the Canadian championships, but also for the Commonwealth Games team, being a citizen of Canada now.

The championships have attracted 151 entries, from all 10 provinces and two territories. Alberta has 29 entries, followed by British Columbia's 24. The men's singles has drawn a crowd of 82, the women's singles, 56.

Playing times at Varsity Arena are: May 4, 9 a.m. to 12 midnight, opening rounds May 5, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., opening rounds; 7 p.m., quarter finals; May 6, 1 p.m. semi-finals; May 7, 1 p.m. finals.

Tickets to the tournament are available at all the Exhibition Association's box offices. The price breakdown is $5 for a three-day pass to the May 5, 6 and 7 sessions, and $2 to each individual session. Admittance to the opening rounds on May 4 is free.

Willowbrook Saints Midgets plan weekend double header

Midget baseball swings into action this weekend locally, as the Saints and the newly formed Cardinals clash head-on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 at the Mission diamond. This game is a rescheduled match which was postponed last Saturday due to wet grounds.

Sunday afternoon at same time and place, the Saints will host the Spruce Grove team in another exhibition tilt. Spruce Grove likely will be tough opposition for all teams this season in the Norwest League. Baseball fever is "running high" in that area with formation of a junior club at Stony Plain.

Rumours are that the Stony Plain midgets team of last year have amalgamated with the Grove, and on paper, Manager Pete Salisny should have things going his way.

Cardinal Coaches Balog and Rechlo appear to be ahead of schedule in formation of the new St. Albert team, but the weatherman has not been co-operating that well. However, the Mission diamond requires a bit of an "overhaul" to handle those heavy showers, so there should be brighter days ahead.

Right-hander Byron Bailey will likely draw the assignment on the mound for the Saints on Saturday; with Tim Shipanoff getting the call on Sunday.

Midget head Ben Tooth advises both local clubs could use two or three additional players, but efforts to stir up more local interest have been unsuccessful.

Help from surrounding areas has also failed so far, as there are midget teams coming "out of the woodwork" in several areas.

The Norwest Midget League should produce a strong contender from Zone 5 in 79 Alberta Summer Games to be held right in our "own backyard."

SAMBA auxiliary elects new executive

Carol Baird, 12 Latimer Place, is the new president of the St. Albert Minor Baseball Association's Ladies Auxiliary. Mrs. Baird, succeeds Darlene Ross who served as the auxiliary's first president during the initial year of operation in 1977.

The remaining slate of officers for this unusual organization of dedicated women are as follows: Vice President, Elaine Balog; Secretary, Elaine Edgett; Treasurer, Sheila Tillapaugh and publicity, Marion Spencer.

Details surrounding their coming activities will be given on "The St. Albert Sports Scene" tonight at 8 p.m. on local cable five.

ANDY CAPP DART TOURNEY CHAMPS

The team of Len Worrell, Steve Walker, Ed Beaudry and Terry Hook (spare) captured the Carling O'Keefe Trophy Steins at the Andy Capp Dart Tournament held Saturday at the St. Albert Legion. Games captain Roy Walker and Barry Booth were on hand to make the presentation.

Sturgeon puts thumbs down on trailer park

The MD of Sturgeon turned thumbs down on a massive trailer park development on Highway 15, five miles north of Edmonton at its regular meeting April 2.

The development would have been between the new Federal Penetentiary and Alberta hospital on Highway 15 and could have brought up to 1500 more residents into the area.

When the request for reclassification from developer George Mason came up for a vote, it was smashed unanimously by the MD development meeting.

Mr. Mason was asking that the MD reclassify about 100 acres of land zoned agricultural special control to residential for the trailer park.

At the time that Mr. Mason was making the presentation, armed with glossy brochures, pretty models, and pictures, it looked as if the MD might have gone for the project.

But as the vote suggested, it didn't.

As Mr. Mason and his delegation left the MD Chambers, Councillor Hubert Lamoureux was heard to say, "It's all we needed."

Just before the vote was taken, Councillor Clay Crozier said, "I disagree with the concept of putting that many people there in the first place."

Councillor Lamoureux pointed out the trailer park proposal would have had to go to a public hearing and would not have stood much chance of getting beyond that. "They're (the people) fed up with trailer parks right up to their heads right now, I realize it's a different concept, but...."

The concept was different. The developer pointed out the trailer park would have catered to lower income families, with prices for homes in the $40,000 - $60,000 range.

Exact size of the park was 94.7 acres with homes on 50 x 100 foot lots. The park would have been paved and well lit with a central 13 acre area for recreation. A swimming pool was in the design, heated and filtered. There would have been provision for an MD public works shop for storage of snow removal equipment, as well as a fire hall in the MD's ownership.

The developer also pointed out that the park would have leased land for such facilities as a drug store, laundry and confectionary, and at the most could have cut the development by 30 lots.

One of the biggest carrots offered to the MD by Mr. Mason was a $500 per lot dedication amounting to $250,000 for school foundation purposes.

But Mr. Mason was stopped in his tracks a bit when Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn reminded him there would also have to be payment of $500 a lot in offsite costs.

RITZY ROXY

. . . The bright neon lights attract a line-up of movie goers last Friday evening when the newly renovated Redwater Roxy Theatre held its grand opening. The house was pretty well packed as invited guests and patrons chuckled their way through the motion picture Oh God.

Legal man awarded honorary degree

University of Alberta Chancellor Ronald Dalby has conferred thousands of degrees during his four-year term which expires June 30.

Perhaps the presentation he will remember best is one which will occur early in June in Legal. Mr. Dalby and members of the university's academic community will travel to the Alberta village to award an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree to Georges Bugnet.

It is the first time in the 70-year history of the university that such a ceremony has taken place outside Edmonton.

Mr. Bugnet is 99 years old and lives in a senior citizens home in Legal which is about 48 kilometres north of Edmonton.

He is being awarded the honorary degree in recognition of his accomplishments in the fields of literature and botany. Mr. Bugnet is perhaps best known for his development of the Therese Bugnet rose.

He was born in France and came to Alberta in 1905 at the age of 26. Long interested in botany, he began to develop hybrids which could thrive in Alberta's climate. His work encompassed pine trees, plum and cherry trees.

He is the author of the novels Nipsya and La Foret, both of which have been translated into English. A volume of poetry which was published in 1938 has recently been reprinted.

In 1970 the French Consul in Edmonton, M. Marcel Ollivier, presented Mr. Bugnet with the French Chevalier dans l'Ordre des Palmes Academiques for his literary work.

Council takes pressure off pet centre

Following are some of the highlights from the developments meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week.

THE MD HAD no objection to an application to take 375 parcels from 205.07 acres in the Woodlands area east of St. Albert. This was provided St. Albert and the applicant can demonstrate the provision of satisfactory access to the site.

THE MD CARRIED A MOTION TO APPROVE an application to amend the regional plan metro part from low density agricultural to general urban. Location of the change is NW-31-53-24-W4 neighbourhood three, (Dunluce) outline plan, Castle Downs, City of Edmonton.

COUNCIL GAVE its blessing to Bob Maynard, coowner of the Sandy Lake Pet Accommodation Centre, for a second residence at the centre. This will be for as long as Mr. Maynard can run the business. The pet centre is about two miles west of Morinville and at busy times the centre is handling pets from as far away as Fort McMurray, while owners take their vacations.

COUNCIL GAVE three readings to a bylaw to rezone part of Riviere Qui Barre from hamlet to commercial.

The application for the reclassification was from Paul Fortier for a new garage over the site where another garage had burnt down.

COUNCILLOR WALTER Van de Walle expressed satisfaction at the way the development meeting handled its business, getting through with lots of time to spare. Apparently the councillor had had some words with the council earlier in the day, suggesting that business could be done more expeditiously.

Redwater pedal pushers starts tonight

As part of Child Safety Week the Redwater Kinsmen will be sponsoring the Pedal Pushers program again this year. It is a very good program which teaches children the proper and safe way to navigate a bicycle.

All interested children under the age of 12 are asked to drop in to the Multi-Plex tonight, May 3, at 7 p.m. for registration. A $2 fee will be charged for the four day program which runs through to May 6. For more information please phone 735-3677.

Smash and grab at Legal Drug Store

Morinville RCMP have charged two people in connection with a smash and grab raid at the Legal IDA drug stores last week.

The two people charged with break and entry and theft were Kevin Roberts, 27, and Jean Norris, 30, both of whom RCMP describe as of no fixed abode.

Their court hearing was set over till today.

Entry to the premises was gained by kicking down the store's front window early last Friday morning.

Eight cartons of cigarettes and some valium was stolen from the store. RCMP also report a car theft tying in with the break-in.

Has MD more clout than CAF in peacetime?

Is the MD of Sturgeon more powerful than the Armed Forces in a peacetime situation?

At the regular development meeting of Sturgeon this week it seemed so when an Armed Forces sergeant in uniform had to knuckle down to municipal zoning regulations.

He had applied for permission to open a snowmobile and retail outlet near Legal, but in the meantime it was found that the application would contravene the MD's General Plan.

The business would have needed commercial zoning in an agriculturally zoned area.

After the hearing the MD decided that an application would have to be made to reclassify the zoning before any development could take place.

The application for the snowmobile outlet ties in with the applicant's plans for retirement.

Policies on busing and tuition reaffirmed

At a board meeting last week, the Sturgeon School Division #24 reaffirmed its policies on busing and tuition agreements.

These policies are that Sturgeon will enter into tuition and transportation agreements only for special education students who cannot be accommodated in programs that exist in Sturgeon schools.

The policy reaffirmation comes after requests from some parents around Morinville for a busing agreement with the Sturgeon school division, after they had been busing students to school in Morinville with their own transport.

Last week the Thibault and Sturgeon school boards had a joint meeting which reviewed busing and tuition agreements for the benefit of new trustees.

Alcomdale 4H Beef Club News

By Mark Davidson

On April 5, our members, guests and some parents, went roller skating in Edmonton. A new experience for most but everyone seemed to enjoy it. Nine other not so adventuresome parents went to a movie. We all stopped at the Dairy Queen on the way home. The club members and parents would like to thank Mr. Tomten for taking a bus so we could all travel together, making a very enjoyable evening.

We held our monthly meeting on April 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gonek. Roll call was new ideas for the stall display in Edmonton for our sale day. Ideas for stalls were discussed and a theme chosen. The members decided by vote to keep the same uniform as last year, red checked shirts and blue jeans. Plans were made for the 4H members to sell donuts, coffee and pop at the Ace Deckert and Dwayne Kyler farm sale on Saturday, April 22.

After the meeting Arlene showed us some slides on Conservation camp that she attended last year. Lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at Arlow's on May 8.

Better days ahead for Villeneuve Road

Three very rough miles of the Villeneuve road from the weigh scales on Highway Two west will no longer be a hassle to local motorists after they are paved this year under a joint government and MD of Sturgeon project.

Total monies in the project are $300,000 with a $150,000 contribution just announced this week by the provincial government's Transportation Department.

This road improvement will be a great benefit to gravel haulers, sod farm traffic as well as local automobile traffic.

Those three miles west on the Villeneuve road have been characterized in the past with deep ruts and potholes, mainly because of the heavy pounding the road took from gravel haul traffic.

H.A.S. returns to Redwater

The Hire-a-Student program is starting its second year in Redwater. This program is jointly sponsored by the Town of Redwater and the Department of Advanced Education and Manpower. The purpose of hire-a-student is to find employment for the students and to help employers who need workers.

The office manager in Redwater is Pat Chmilar and you can contact her after school at either 735-3303 (office) or 735-3478 (res.). If you have any questions about H.A.S. all you have to do is phone.

The hire-a-student office works like an employment agency and trys to find suitable students for each job. All students who are looking for jobs should register with Pat Chmilar and all businesses which are looking for summer and part-time help should use H.A.S.

There will be students available to do every job from babysitting to rock picking to cashiers in stores.

Hire-a-student was quite successful last year in Redwater but to make it more successful community support is required. So come on Redwater, give yourself a break and hire-a-student.

Get your long "put off" jobs done and give the Redwater area students a chance to spend a useful summer.

Calahoo W.I. Notes

By Liz McLeod

The regular monthly meeting of Calahoo Women's Institute, was held in the Gazebo on Tuesday, April 25, at 8:30 p.m. with 14 members present.

We were sorry to hear that Mrs. Cecile Berry was in hospital and Mrs. Emelia Schmermund had a bad cold. Mrs. M. Daphne Kerr was also absent from this meeting.

Fred Brown, Carl Bergstreiser, Vic Albrecht, Tom Campbell and John Thatcher were present to enjoy togetherness and visiting afterwards during lunchtime.

After formalities were dispensed with, there was discussion and final preparations made for the Constituency Conference May 3.

In the correspondence there was a receipt and letter of thanks from the Red Cross for our donation.

The letter from Mrs. J. Elsie Williams of Onoway W.I. informed this group that Onoway W.I. members accepted Calahoo W.I.'s invitation to their May 23 meeting.

The letter from Mrs. Bette Ballhorn, provincial president, reminded us of the provincial convention in Olds May 29 to June 1. She sent the delegates a card and a copy of the resolutions to be voted upon.

The resolutions were read and discussed so the delegate, Mrs. Pete McLeod, will know her group's feelings on the matters.

HANDICRAFT TEA

Our Constituency Convenor, fellow member, Mrs. F. Isabell Wheatley, informed us that Winterburn W.I. will host the handicraft tea this year and the date for same will be Wednesday, October 18.

Mrs. J. Stephanie Shenfield read a letter asking for funds to aid detection of deafness. Since she is also a member of the Order of the Royal Purple, and this is one of their projects, the Calahoo W.I. voted to give $30 to the cause.

The roll call was answered by all present, with an exchange of garden seeds.

The door prize, brought by Stephanie, was won by Mrs. F. Madeline Brown.

The next meeting will be held in the Gazebo on Tuesday, May 23, at 8:30 p.m. with Mrs. T. Laura Campbell as hostess. The roll call will be an exchange of plants and the topic will be Onoway W.I.'s visit. Pat Doerksen will be visiting to show us how the district home economists judge handicraft.

Visitors are always welcome.

CALAHOO GOLDENAGE ACTIVITIES

Wednesday, April 12 saw 27 neighbors and friends gather in the Gazebo for an afternoon of friendly visiting, playing cards and then bingo, before all gather around the table and enjoy the lunch hour.

This day two birthday cakes graced the table, and all sang to Mrs. Emelia Schmermund and Mr. Carl Bergstreiser, who have April birthdays.

Then on April 26, nigh on to 40 members and friends, enjoyed the lovely spring weather by going to the Gazebo for the meeting.

This was a special day because the Calahoo W.I asked the Sturgeon Health Unit to conduct a Blood Pressure Clinic so two RN's, Rose Finvers and Maria Keller were on hand to show two different slides, one on "Hypertension" and the other one on "Diet and Your Heart."

After these were shown, everyone wishing to have their blood pressure taken, did so, and were given a pamphlet with information on, "You and Your Blood Pressure."

This being done, normal routine resumed and cards were enjoyed for an hour and then bingo was played.

Then, since the President, Mrs. G. Elsie Berry and Secretary Mrs. J. Addie Thatcher were present, a short meeting was called to order.

There was an invitation from the Bon Accord Senior Citizens Club for Wednesday, May 17 at 2 p.m.

T'was nice to hear what other clubs are doing, in the letter, Addie read from the Advisory Board meeting, she attended.

Tickets for the Red Barn on May 31 were available but there wasn't enough interest to warrant hiring a bus, even though there were some who would dearly love to go.

The next meeting of Calahoo Goldenage Club, will be held on Wednesday, May 10 at 1 p.m. and visitors are always welcome.

The Green Willow District of Calahoo has lost another one of its pioneers in the person of Mr. Joseph Freitag, R.R. #1 Calahoo, who passed away in Sturgeon General Hospital - St. Albert, on Wednesday, April 19 at 82 years of age.

Even though Joe retired from farming in 1965, he sold his farm but continued to live in his home. He will be remembered for his musical talents with the accordian. He played for house parties and local weddings in the early days.

Mr. Freitag was predeceased by two brothers, Herman Freitag at the end of World War II in 1945 and Johannes Freitag on January 15, 1978 in Germany.

Control 90% (or more) of your Wild Oats before they get started robbing you.*

Control wild oats early. Give them less time to steal your water and soil nutrients. Keep more of these essentials to feed your wheat, barley, flax, rape, dry peas, sugar beets, or mustard.

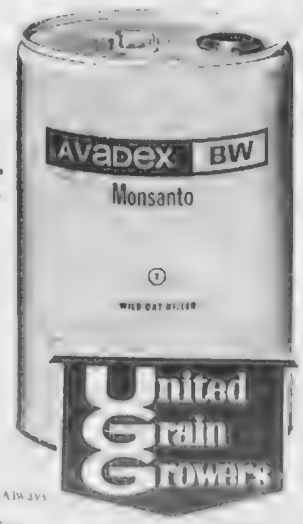

Avadex BW® works in all seven crops. Wheat yields can be increased by as much as 30 per cent. Similar results can be expected in the other crops, too.

If you like to see results, just leave one strip untreated. Count the wild oats in that strip! Compare with the number of dead or dying wild oats shoots you can dig up in any area where you put Avadex BW to work.

You can get the job done for sure with Avadex BW. You can also be sure of a good deal at UGG—all the Avadex BW you need—at a fair price.

Avadex BW is a registered trademark of Monsanto Company. Always read and follow the label directions.

*Percentages of control and yield increases may vary, depending on climate conditions, varieties, time of application, soil fertility and degree of wild oat infestation.

UGG sells Avadex BW
It has to be good!

Fashion show highlights dance, music

Spring showers should pose no problem for this Lioness model, wearing a neat and trim trench-style coat provided by Hall and Jens Fashions of Fort Saskatchewan. The coat was only one of the fashionable garments paraded at the Lioness Fashion Show April 20 in Redwater.

On April 20 the Multiplex again greeted ladies from Redwater and district for the Lionettes fourth annual fashion show. A green carpeted ramp enhanced with streamers in shades of brown greeted the ladies. The tables were decorated with orange carnations to complete the effect. The wine and cheese tables were decorated, as in other years, with wrought iron wine racks and a lovely fountain.

The fashions through the evening ran the gamut from coats, sportswear, bathing suits, sleepwear to evening gowns for one and all.

In all, 15 door prizes were awarded. The winners were: Wine Packs - V. Wintonyk, Marilynne Hussey, J. Schmidt, and Jean Vercholuk; Cheese Packs - Valerie Whitson and B. A. Davis; Avon Surprise - Gladys Abromski; Flowers - Grace Gutek, Barbara Budney and Vivian Prodaniuk; Fruit Basket - Cynthia Cissell; Gift Certificates - Sandy Duncan, Gwyn From, and Lois Parker won the $25 certificates, with Bea Reitzel walking off with the grand prize of $50 certificate to Hall and Jens.

During intermission we were all entertained royally by a ladies jazz group that just started last October. Janet Armstrong, Karen Tchaikowsky, D. Manchuk, Evadene Shipclark and Ann Hodgeson we thoroughly enjoyed you.

A slight change of pace and a very pretty one led us to Patsy Chmillar and Leanne Hanson doing a Ukrainian dance in full costume.

Then Linda Ross performed a ballet number for the ladies which was very elegant and graceful. Linda teaches dancing of all sorts in Bon Accord and has classes for all ages.

While the ladies refilled their glasses before the second half of the show, Lynn Pacquet played the piano and supplies lovely background music for the ladies to listen to during their long wait at the wine tables.

We wish to thank all the entertainers for their part in filling out the evening and also a big thanks to the ladies from Thorhild and Radway who helped with the modelling.

Nigel Mansfield and Joe Milligan supplied the disco music which accompanied the models on their long walk down the ramp.

The fashions of course, were supplied from Hall and Jens fashion store in Fort Saskatchewan. They have done a fine job for us for four years now and are really a treat to work with. They are always very co-operative and helpful.

We would like to thank the following for their various donations; for floral arrangements - Bank of Commerce, Royal Bank, Imperial Oil and Fina: for the wine packs - Andres Wines; the cheese prizes - Tommy, our cheese co-ordinator; and to Mona Attwood for Avon. The Lionettes purchased the gift certificates.

A special thanks to Pollies Follies for the carnations and floral arrangements and for donating the fruit basket. Also a special thanks to Jeannie McColeman of Freedom Hair Care for donating her time and talents to do the models' hair styles and for coming early to work backstage on touch-ups.

This year's proceeds from the show will go towards buying a wheelchair for use in the Golden Villa.

We hope one and all had a good time and will return again next year.

Ultra-feminine appears to be the look for spring, judging by the graceful gowns being modelled here. The dresses were part of the Lioness Fashion Show held in Redwater on April 20. All present enjoyed an evening of wine and cheese, interspersed with interludes of music and dance.

DEPUTY MAYOR SNIPS RIBBON

Recently renovated Roxy now open four days a week

Back in 1948, the Hunchak family constructed a new and exciting business to serve the residents of Redwater and area - the Redwater Roxy Theatre. Not many towns could boast such a facility in those days and the Roxy continued to entertain the folks from miles around in the years to follow. Mr. Senyrk, who died recently, purchased the theatre from the Hunchaks, and upon retirement, sold the premises to Mr. L. Nelson. He managed the movie house until three years ago, when it was acquired by Fred Hrynchuk, who turned the keys over to Mr. Jim Sundar of Edmonton on November 15 of last year.

Mr. Sundar was born in the Fiji Islands and emigrated to Canada in 1969, with his wife Beverly and their two children Dennis and Jannis. Moving to Edmonton in 1971, Jim started Tornado Janitor Service and Window Cleaning Ltd. It has grown to become the largest cleaning company of its kind in Alberta, with branches in Red Deer and Fort McMurray, where it has extensive contracts with Great Canadian Oil Sands and the Syncrude Project. Later, he started Tornado Tent and Awning Mfg. Co. Ltd. and Better Building Maintenance Ltd., all Edmonton based firms. Recently, Jim has become interested in Theatres, purchasing the Redwater Roxy and the Beverly Theatre, "sort of as a hobby."

Since taking over the Roxy, Mr. Sundar has made extensive renovations to the theatre: new carpets have been installed, a new sound system put in, the lobby was newly renovated, the walls were freshly texture sprayed, 100 seats were added and the washroom facilities were brought up-to-date. In addition to the facelift, Jim has booked many recently released movies and now opens his doors four nights a week, with special attractions, such as midnight horror specials appearing twice a week.

Jim's brother, Ray, has been apprenticing under Fred Hrynchuk, for his projectionist licence. Ray is the manager of the Roxy, and about the middle of May, will take over the duties of projectionist.

Jim Sundar told the Gazette that he is pleased to have the opportunity to maintain such an entertaining business in Redwater, and he hopes that the people of the area will stop in and see the changes he has made and sit back and enjoy a good movie. He also stated that he would be pleased to hear suggestions from the residents as to how he could better serve them.

The Grand Opening of the Roxy was held last Friday evening, with Deputy Mayor Peter Hrynchuk cutting the ribbon. People then crowded the theatre for the showing of Oh God!, an engrossing comedy which suited the festive mood of the Grand Opening. There are many good movies coming up, but to give you an advanced idea of what's in store here's a few: You Light Up My Life, Telefon, The Island of Dr. Moreau, The Gauntlet, The Goodbye Girl, Saturday Night Fever and many, many more.

Redwater Legion and Auxiliary News

By Maxine Kerber

In going through my Legion papers I came across some very interesting facts about the Legion, and I'd like to share them with you.

The Royal Canadian Legion membership totals over a half million in nerly 1,900 branches throughout Canada and U.S.A.

Legion members continually strive to improve pension, medical and other forms of service to their former comrades-in-arms, and their widows. Each yeat over $1 million flows to veterans and their dependents through the efforts of trained service officers of the Legion in service bureaus and branches.

Some of the major endeavours of the Legion since World War 11 have been in the field of community service for example:

Legion branches own or support senior citizen housing units valued at over $60 million;

Legion branch buildings or halls, are worth approximately $200 million;

Over 900 branches give student bursaries and scholarships for continued education;

The Legion sponsors 5,400 separate youth groups. It is the largest single sponsor of scouting in Canada - over 300 troops - and sponsors more hockey teams and leagues than any other one organization - over 800 branches sponsor hockey;

Largest participation sport in the Legion is curling, in which over 900 branches actively take part. In addition darts, golf, cribbage and whist are actively sponsored sports among Legion members;

Ladies Auxiliaries to the Legion boost almost 100,000 members, and contribute over $2 million a year to Legion projects.

Does this sound like an organization you'd like to belong to? A few weeks ago I gave you the requirements for joining the auxiliary, now I'd like to set down those for the Legion membership, of which there are four classes:

Ordinary Member: Men or women who, for the most part, have served in Canada's armed forces or RCMP in peace or in war. Some have served in the forces of Canada's allies and some with auxiliary services in theatres of war.

Associate Members: Sons or daughters of ordinary members, must be 18 years of age. These members can hold any committee position but cannot be on the executive. They may voice opinions on any but money matters.

Honorary Members: Men or women who have shown a keen interest in the Legion and have made some form of contribution to this organization. In return they are being honored with membership. These members are voted in each year and the number of honorary members cannot exceed seven percent of the total membership. These members may within the term they belong to the Legion transfer to another branch, but the new branch must at the end of the term vote them in or out.

Affiliate Members: The requirement is the same as for honorary members, but this member may not transfer. He is voted in each year and is a working member of this branch only.

As you can see, there is no reason why everyone is not a member of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Our Legion President Mel Paulson, or our Secretary Fred Hews will be pleased to discuss membership with you, or Jim Evasiw at the Post Office, will talk to you when you pick up your mail.

The whist drives on Thursday have been cancelled for the summer months only. Bingo is still every other Thursday. The Friday evening socials are not being too well attended. Farmers market in Legion Hall - May 13. Next regular meeting is Monday, May 15.

Again the time has come to start making plans for a stall at the market. Anyone can set up a stall and anything can be sold. Ladies, put all of your sewing scraps in plastic bags, someone might want them for a quilt! If you feel you want to sell something but hate the thoughts of the loading or unloading remember that all you have to do is put it in your truck and drive into the arena and set up your stall. What might be junk to you might be of some value to someone else. For further information phone Stella Langier at 923-2395. Farmers' Markets will be held Saturday, May 20 from 1 - 5 p.m. and Thursday, May 25 from 5 - 8:30.

No. 524 Sturgeon Air Cadets on Parade

"One-a thousand, two-a thousand, three-a thousand and, GERONIMO!" Cries such as this were common last Thursday evening as the senior cadets who were involved in the parachute packing course, had the opportunity to practice mock parachute jumps from the training tower at Griesbach. Sgt. Murray Ingle of the Canadian Airborne was responsible for arranging this interesting and exciting event for the cadets.

Supervising in the tower were Sgts. Koenig and Topham, while Sgt. Ingle, on the mount, instructed cadets in catching and unharnessing one another, as, in turn, each cadet jumped five times.

At the conclusion, the small audience was asked if anyone else would like an opportunity to jump also, and Mrs. Porsild and Mrs. Russell "jumped" at the chance. Both ladies displayed good form, although Mrs. Russell, slightly hesitant, received a little "persuasion" at the beginning of her jump!

At the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, parents had the various summer camps and scholarships explained to them by the training officer, Lt. E. Mortimer. The administration officer, OC Joy e Porsild told how to fill out application forms, and stressed the importance of having it done correctly. She offered her help in any problems encountered by parents, which was most appreciated.

Meanwhile the squadron had been learning about the world of communications with Marilyn Carlyle, public relations supervisor with Alberta Government Telephones. She showed a film, and gave a short talk on new developments such as fibre optic telephone transmission in which a small glass cable, the thickness of a hair can carry up to 4,000 telephone conversations at the same time! She answered numerous questions, gave out pamphlets, and provided the squadron with a most interesting and informative evening.

On Saturday, April 29, cadets attended an extra drill practice in Gibbons in preparation for the final inspection on May 23.

On May 2, Mrs. Sandra Ramsay of the Red Cross will be in Bon Accord to discuss with cadets the upcoming blood donor clinic sponsored by #524 squadron.

Upcoming events - May 12 - 14: Bushcraft at Camp Wright.

May 15 - Blood Donor Clinic, 7 - 9 p.m. in the Bon Accord Community Centre.

Last round-up monthly news

By Jean Toane

Thirty-seven members of the Last Round-up spent sunny Thursday afternoon, April 27, 1978, in the Legion Hut, our regular second Thursday meeting. Bingo was again enjoyed, and a short business meeting followed delicious refreshments served by Vera Hostyn, Mollie Hall, and Aurore Lamoureux. We were pleased to have our new members from Spruceview Manor present again this week. Members celebrating birthdays this month were Don Bevington, Annie Knight, Gordon Spence and Stan Mabbutt.

An invitation was received from the Bon Accord Golden Gems inviting our group to be represented at their official opening by one couple. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shaw were chosen to represent the group. A motion was passed that we send 10 dollars to the Council on Aging, (Alberta), and members are given the opportunity to attend the conference, the theme of which is The Responsibilities and Rights of Aging, at the University of Alberta on May 25, 26 and 27. We will receive a copy of the background report on this theme and the 1978 Annual Report.

A motion was also passed that we donate five dollars to the Gibbons playschool, and attend their fund-raising bingo.

The canvassers for cancer, L. Austin, J. Petherbridge, K. Brandle and J. Toane reported a successful canvass.

We noted the absence of two members whose husbands are sick in hospital, namely Ethel Neilson and Agnes Rippon. Our best wishes are with them. We are glad to hear that George Petherbridge is again out of hospital, and making good progress.

Please remember, friends, that next week's meeting we are going to choose a name for our drop-in centre! How about "WELCOME INN"?

HANDS UP!

Gum diseases bring tooth loss

Gum Disease is the cause of an estimated 85 per cent of tooth loss in adults, and almost every adult has it in some form - from slight gum inflammation all the way to the most destructive stages causing loss of teeth. It can be prevented through regular oral hygiene and dental checkups. If detected early the progress of gum disease can usually be stopped.

AGRICULTURE FROM MY VIEWPOINT

BY MARVIN E. MOORE,
ALBERTA MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

4-H is a recognizable symbol to all Albertans and many of us have fond memories of our involvement in some phase of this great organization. This youth movement has contributed greatly to the life styles of many Albertans and through it our youth have often had the opportunity to travel through this Province and across Canada, meeting and exchanging ideas with other clubs.

Although we are all familiar with the more popular projects of 4-H such as beef and horse clubs, I would like to bring to your attention a category which is sometimes overlooked by our clubs, that is the Field Crops Clubs where there is a real opportunity for rural youth to gain valuable experience in crop production. Recent scientific advances in chemical weed control, new varieties of cereal grains, grasses, legumes, oilseeds and specialty crops could go towards making this category interesting and worthwhile. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that it could be possible for some members, once they have the expertise, to go on to seed judging with the end result being a Western Canadian Seed Judging Competition.

I would personally like to see a renewal of the interest of a few years ago and the formation of some new projects falling in this category. I suggest to those of you who have similar interest to make those views known. If you have expertise which would be of use in leading or an interest in becoming a member, I would ask that you write to me c/o 423 Legislative Building, Edmonton. If your response is sufficient it will then be my intention to follow through with my department staff and do a complete updating of the Field Crops Program and as soon as possible, offer it to the Clubs throughout our Province.

I would appreciate receiving your comments.

New books at the Morinville Library

The library has received a gift from Mr. Horst Schmid, Minister of Culture. Four books of the printed reproductions and their meticulous detail make them a wonderful acquisition. The titles of the books are: "What I saw at the Calgary Stampede," "Let the Chaps fall where they may," "Weep for the Cowboy," and "Pack Horse in the Rockies." At present the books are not loaned out but may be browsed over at the library in the lounge area. Anyone desiring a set of these books may obtain them from the Provincial Museum bookshop for $6.00.

Another gift to the library is the book "Alcoholics Anonymous," given by the Morinville A.A. and Alanon groups. These groups meet every Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Historical Centre. Anyone interested in further information may telephone 939-4231.

Other recent arrivals:

"Bel Ria" by Sheila Burnford. The author of "The Incredible Journey" has written another animal book. The story concerns war-torn Britain and the goodness mankind is capable of under stress. The tale tells how a tough little terrier changes the lives of several people.

"Gymnastics for Girls" by Dr. Frank Ryan. Any junior high or high school girl interested in gymnastics should study this book. It is well illustrated and explains in detail floor exercises, balance bars, parallel bars, vaulting, etc. Although she isn't mentioned in the text the cover picture is of the famous "Nadia" who is the inspiration for all aspiring gymnists.

"Who Has Seen the Wind" by W.O. Mitchell illustrated by Wm. Kurelik. First published in 1947 this is a new special edition with eight colour prints and 32 black and white prints. W.O. Mitchell's famous story of a boy growing up on the prairies, and Wm. Kurelik's (Who died last year) illustrations make the book a collectors item.

The Rendez-vous Club News

By Dorothy Daignault

The Morinville Rendezvous club had a good crowd at their evening party April 21. Whist was played and the winners of first prize were Mrs. Irene Golden and Mr. Doyle Cochlin. The consolation prizes were given to Mrs. Elizabeth Vervynck and Mr. Gerard Rousseau. A few games of bingo followed. We were then served a delicious lunch.

Many of our citizens are going on the Oil Sand tour May 14, and others will be going to the Alberta Game Farm and Lake Tour on June 2nd.

Thank You

To all who came and helped fight the fire on Thursday afternoon. We would like to express our "thanks," especially to the R.C.M.P. detachment from Morinville, Sturgeon Municipal and St. Albert fire trucks, Henry and Marcel Kerchof and their "honey wagon" and most of all the neighbors. Without your help the damage would have been much worse

Gratefully,
Otto and Audrey Steinkampf and family,
